'WILL I LOSE MY HOME?' – Council tenant's fear in Barry

REPORT by TIM CHAPMAN

A COUNCIL tenant, who is the victim of domestic violence, has spoken of her anger that her husband can contest her for occupation of the home.

On July 17, the woman's husband pleaded guilty to a charge of assault against her.

At the time, the woman told The GEM "We are joint tenants of a council property, and Atal y Fro, the local women's aid group, and the housing officer have informed me that I am not allowed to change the locks, or take over sole occupancy of the property.

"It makes no sense to me, and my trauma has continued long after the attack. It seems to me that victims are secondary."

She also insisted: "I am determined to stay in my home."

At the time, the head of housing at the Vale Council, Tony Jaques, said: "The council and Atal Y Fro are aware of this tenant and have actively been supporting her to address these issues since they first arose."

Mr Jaques also pointed out that a tenancy involves legal considerations and emphasised that the woman's safety remained of paramount importance to the services supporting her.

He also said: "In relation to the tenancy issues, these are also bound by law and it is not possible for the council to simply award the tenancy to anyone, regardless of the circumstances."

The woman's husband has now been sentenced at the Vale Magistrates Court in Barry.

Last Friday, August 13, he was given a three-month prison sentence, suspended for 18 months.

He was also made subject to an indefinite restraining order, and must not contact her by any means.

Magistrates also ordered that he attend an alcohol misuse course.

The GEM has chosen not to identify the couple.

However, the tenant is fearful that her husband will now fight for the tenancy of the home.

The restraining order does not specifically name her address, but designates wherever she is living.

The GEM understands that courts often make restraining orders relevant to a person's place of residence, rather than a specific address to spare victims a return journey to court for a new order.

But the woman feels that not naming the address will give her husband the opportunity to launch a challenge for it.

She told The GEM: "Victims of domestic violence should be the priority, not perpetrators who are found guilty and punished by a court of law.

"My husband can now fight for tenancy of this flat and if he wins, the council and courts will effectively be making a victim of domestic violence homeless. I'm disgusted to the core with the court's decision and with the council."

The strain of the uncertainty has taken its toll on the woman, something that can clearly be seen in this plea sent to The GEM: "I know that people might think 'if she's that scared, she'd be running to seek refuge in a hostel'. But, my argument remains the same – why should I, the victim, be forced into hiding, while my husband remains free to continue his life living in our home?

"Why should I live in fear in a hostel surrounded by strangers, when I can live in fear surrounded by neighbours and family who will look out for me and protect me in my own home?

"I feel as if the life has been drained out of me already, I am so exhausted it's unreal."

Mr Jaques told The GEM: "The council has no legal ability to determine which of the joint tenants can be given the sole rights to the property.

"This is a matter which only the court can decide.

"Meanwhile, we will continue to provide whatever support we can; including emergency rehousing of the victim, if this is what she wishes."

Inquiry launched after boy loses eye in a park incident

THE Health and Safety Executive and local police have launched an investigation to establish the circumstances surrounding an incident which resulted in a seven-year-old boy losing the sight in one eye.

The incident took place during a family picnic at Maslin Park, Barry Island on August 3.

For the full story, please turn to page 3.

350 houses back on the Rhoose drawing board

DEVELOPERS are looking once again at land in Rhoose Point which has been allocated for a total of up to 600 homes.

The land, which is to the north of the railway line, has been available for some time, but the economic downturn meant that interest cooled.

However, with construction companies and developers once again looking to the future, plans for 350 houses have been submitted to the council.

The Vale Council has also taken possession of all the land at Rhoose Point that was previously owned by the building company Cofton, which is now in administration..

The administrators have paid the council £20,000.

In his column in The GEM this week (see page 7), the Vale Council Leader, Coun Gordon Kemp, argues that the council will now be able to do the work necessary to get the estate's highways and sewers fully adopted.

ASSAULT PROBE

POLICE are appealing for witnesses, following an alleged sexual assault on a young girl in Dinas Powys on Wednesday afternoon, August 4.

It occurred near the Dinas Powys Skate Park, Cardiff Road, where a 12-year-old girl alleges she was sexually assaulted by a group of similar aged boys, a police spokesperson said.

A 14-year-old boy from Sully has been arrested and bailed pending further police enquiries.

If anyone has any information, contact DC Nick Miller at Barry CID at Barry Police Station on 101, or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Litter eyesore spoils the view

MY husband and I enjoy a Sunday drive out to the lake at the Knap, Barry.

If the weather is good, we sit for an hour and watch the radio-controlled, model boat and ships – also the swans, ducks and gulls are a joy.

Only one thing spoils all this – the rubbish and debris lying all around.

Is this any wonder, though? I have counted only four or five waste bins around the whole of the lake.

The lack of bins is especially noticeable at the back of the lake near the benches where people sit.

Please can the council do something to correct this problem?

It might encourage more people to be 'tidy' and keep the area as it should be – a pleasant place to visit, take the kids, and walk dogs.

Sue Brown, Rhoose

'Tesco store will damage Rhoose'

MAY I respond to the letter in last week's edition of The GEM, supporting the proposed arrival of Tesco in Rhoose?

To suggest that this will rejuvenate the village is naive at least, as Tesco's sole aim in life is to put everyone else out of business.

Rhoose will soon be a ghost town with one shop, as the others will not be able to compete.

Already shops are shutting in the village, through rates and rent hypes.

Anybody who lives on Fontygary Road will see traffic noise double with large articulated lorries bouncing over the speed ramps at 4am in the morning.

With 350 new houses planned, traffic will be even worse. It's no use monitoring traffic when the damage is already done!

To suggest that the weekly shop will be done by people on foot or bicycles is just laughable.

As usual, this was kept quiet and the council won't object, as they only see the financial gain from rates etc.

Obviously, Mrs Spear thinks the arrival of a shop is more important than the damage it will cause to the environment of the village.

Mr and Mrs GE Lages, Rhoose

Why should I pay for broadband?

I believe an idea was put forward and incorporated in a Bill going through parliament, at the proposal of the Labour government, whereby everyone in the country would have broadband and those with landline phones would have to pay 50p a month, ad infinitum – I suppose to pay for it!

What happens, I wonder, to someone like myself who doesn't want broadband and would very much resent having to pay for it, especially when we consider how very high phone rental already is?

NO-ONE CONDONES CLAIMANTS WHO CHEAT ON SOCIAL BENEFITS, BUT...

What about the tax fraud by the rich?

THE government say they are concerned that "hard-earned taxpayers' money is being stolen from the taxpayer".

I'm sure that any right-minded person would want to cut benefit fraud – but not to the detriment of those who genuinely deserve it.

But why is the bigger problem of tax avoidance and evasion totally ignored? Estimates of loss to the economy by major companies range from £20bn to £95bn.

Even at the lower figure, that represents a four times bigger problem than benefit fraud, so where's the plan by the government to tackle this fraud in the upper echelons of society?

The big financial institutions who are responsible for the current economic crisis, have already got away with their actions by continuing to award themselves high salaries and huge bonuses while hospitals, schools, and public sector staff have to suffer.

It's plain that the government are now targeting the poorest end of society again, whilst letting their rich friends escape any blame or prosecution for their tax fraud.

So much for the trite government statement that "we're all in this together!"

Airport answers parking critics

I WRITE in response to the letter from Mr Crabtree in The GEM on August 5 (concerning airport parking).

The £1 drop-off and pick-up charge introduced at Cardiff Airport is a direct consequence of the investment made to the forecourt area in front of the terminal.

If an airport is to make any alternations to the terminal front, it is required to have introduced more stringent security measures with regard to the distance between vehicles and the front, a minimum distance, preventing vehicles from being able to reach the terminal.

As Cardiff Airport has received planning permission to redevelop the terminal, it therefore must also comply with these requirements going forward.

The airport has invested in the redevelopment of the area, car parks and signage, so there is a direct relationship between the substantial cost of implementing these measures and the charge applied.

Other UK airports, such as Newcastle, Birmingham, London Luton and soon to be launched Edinburgh, also operate similar drop-off and pick-up arrangements and charges.

Visitors to the airport have the option of using the new priority drop and go and priority pick-up areas outside the terminal for £1, or the free drop-off and pick-up area in the long stay 1 car park. For those with reduced mobility, there is also a special assistance vehicle operating to the front of the terminal.

Baggage trolleys are available in all of the airport car parks and these bays are checked and stocked regularly throughout the day.

I would urge Mr Crabtree to contact us directly with his complaint and leave a message with his contact information of the specified number; all complaints will be answered within five days.

What happened to the buses?

LAST Wednesday morning, I set out to catch the special bus to the Vale of Glamorgan Show at Rhoose, and before leaving the house, I rang the telephone number given in The GEM to confirm times and pick-up points.

I arrived at the bus stop in St Athan in good time to catch the 11.25am bus, and stood there waiting with several other would-be passengers.

We agreed that the bus may be delayed a little due to traffic; however, when it had not appeared by 12noon, I rang the bus company and was told that: "Yes, we are running late due to traffic, the bus is in Cowbridge and should be with you in 15-20 minutes".

At 12.45pm, there was still no sign of the bus, and I rang again as by now the 11.25am was well over an hour late and the scheduled 12.25pm already 20 minutes overdue.

The response to my second call was that, of course, traffic was heavy and also the buses were picking up passengers at stops on the way. (In fact, traffic heading from Llantwit Major toward Barry was noticeably lighter than usual).

I, and the other people at the st Athan stop, agreed that the service given was totally unacceptable and decided that as EST, the bus operator, could not be trusted to give reliable service or information, we would abandon the idea of visiting the Vale Show.

I would suggest that whoever is responsible for giving the contract to EST does not do so in future, but attempts to find a more reliable and customer-orientated bus company.

HIGH TIDE TIMES

(UNTIL AUGUST 26)

The high tides listed in this week's GEM are those in Porthcawl. It should be remembered that along the coast, high tide times will vary. For instance, in Barry, the high point will be 20 – 25 minutes later.

DATE	Time AM	Ht M	Time PM	Ht M
19 Thur	02.16	7.7	15.06	7.6
20 Fri	03.46	7.5	16.22	7.7
21 Sat	04.57	7.9	17.25	8.3
22 Sun	05.53	8.4	18.08	8.8
23 Mon	06.35	8.8	18.54	9.2
24 Tues	07.11	9.1	19.25	9.4
25 Wed	07.43	9.3	20.01	9.5
26 Thur	08.14	9.2	20.29	9.6

While The GEM makes every effort to check the accuracy of tide tables, we recommend that anyone putting out to sea, or walking in an area where they could be cut off, should always check with a tide tablespecific to their location.

WAS STONE THROWN UP BY GRASS-CUTTING MACHINE?

COMMUNITY SHOCKED AS YOUNGSTER (7) LOSES EYE

REPORT by TIM CHAPMAN

A PICNIC in a park at Barry Island turned to horror when a youngster was struck in the eye by a stone.

Despite being rushed to hospital, the boy's eye could not be saved.

The incident took place at Maslin Park on Barry Island, a popular area for local children and families.

At around 2pm on Tuesday, August 3, the boy's family were having a picnic in the park when the incident occurred.

Police in Barry said they were conducting a joint investigation with the Health and Safety Executive to establish the circumstances surrounding the incident which resulted in the seven-year-old losing his eye.

A police spokesman said: "He was taken to hospital and underwent surgery, but the eye could not be saved.

"The investigation is looking to establish whether the stone was thrown up from a grass cutting machine, which was being used in the area at the time of the incident."

A spokesman for the Health and Safety Executive confirmed: "We are aware of the incident and are investigating in conjunction with South Wales Police."

Miles Punter, the head of visible services at the Vale Council, commented: "We would like to express our deepest sympathies to the young boy and his family.

"This is obviously a very distressing experience for them. The incident is currently under investigation and it would be inappropriate for us to comment at this stage."

The local councillor, Steffan Wiliam, urged anyone living opposite Maslin Park or passing nearby at the time of the incident, who may have helpful information, to contact the police, adding:

"The whole community has great sympathy for the family."

Any witnesses should contact the police on 101, or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

A love of the sea changed Chris's life forever

by TIM CHAPMAN

A love of the sea has been the inspiration behind one Barry woman's RNLI fundraising efforts – and now she has been awarded a gold badge by Prince Michael of Kent for 28 years of supporting the service.

Mrs Chris Tutton lives not far from the town centre with sweeping views of the Bristol Channel from her lounge. It is a seascape that has played a huge role in her life in ways she could never have imagined.

She reflected: "I have always loved the sea and when I decided I wanted to do some sort of fund-raising, it seemed natural to do something connected to it.

"I began helping at the RNLI ladies guild – there are still some in existence. Barry became a branch for women and men in 1999.

"It was a natural progression because the husbands of the guild members often helped at events."

Chris's fundraising over the years was carried out while she held down a full-time career at Llandough Hospital, rising to the position of superintendent radiographer before retiring in 2002.

Her 28 years of fundraising led to her recognition at the RNLI 2010 awards held at the Barbican Centre in London.

A citation read: "Chris has always been a first class member of this team (Barry Fundraising Branch, Wales and West Region) and she now leads the highly successful branch as a most respected chairman."

The branch holds varied events throughout the year – a recent one being an opera evening – and organises a flag fortnight annually.

Chris explained: "The funds go to maintaining the boats, training, equipment, clothing and lifeguards."

Over the years, Chris's involvement with the RNLI has changed her life in ways she could never have predicted.

She met her husband Richard, who was a member of the local lifeboat crew, in 1996 and her stepson, also called Richard, is its full time mechanic!

This year, she enjoyed another trip up to London too.

"The Deputy Lord Lieutenant of Glamorgan Colin Jones was kind enough to recommend me for a Buckingham garden party in June."

Chris is keen to encourage others to help in fund raising and if people would like to get involved, they can call the branch secretary, Jennie Williams, on 0144 6 734888.

Songbirds winners at Eisteddfod

TWO Vale sisters both won vocal awards at the recent national Eisteddfod in Ebbw Vale.

What is more, Ellen and Lisa Williams will have plenty of opportunities to retain their titles, as they were among the youngest in their age group.

Ellen, a former Ysgol Bro Morgannwg pupil, is 19 and in her first year at Exeter University, where she is studying French and Spanish; while 16-year-old Lisa is still at the Welsh medium school, and is awaiting her GCSE results.

Ellen was the winner in the under-21 Welsh folk song category, singing 'Y Bore Glas' and she also took second place in the Welsh solo song -– this time in the 19- 25 age group.

In Lisa's case, her victory came in the under-19 girls solo category, singing 'Y Elyrd' by Eirian Jones.

The sisters have always been keen singers, and studied under Ysgol Iolo Morganwg music teacher, Eleri Roberts.

Lisa still takes regular classes, while Ellen is singing 'for fun' at university – including developing an a cappella vocal group.

The winning ticket is drawn live on Bro Radio on the 12th of every month, just after the midday news.

HOUSING: 'CRITICS ARE NOT HEEDED'

I REFER to the letter, 'We need a cinema, not more houses in town', by C Manders, (The GEM, August 12).

Hardly a week goes by without a letter in the local press criticising the Vale of Glamorgan Council with regard to developments, particularly housing, in Barry.

Yet there is little or no public response to these community concerns from our elected decision takers.

Often a few councillors can be found on their own patch sympathising with people or turning up for a photo opportunity.

They may tell campaigners that they support the cause, but there is little they can do for one reason or another. The problem is that it's always someone else's fault or it's the 'other lot' to blame.

The well-practiced phrase from planning committee members is that it is difficult to oppose applications when the officers, who are experts, have advised that they pass it.

The line goes on to say that the developer will only appeal if they don't, so you can't blame councillors on that committee, either.

What they are all unlikely to tell you is that it's their long-term policy, the Urban Development Plan, which appears to have created the motivation for land owners in Barry to turn their patch of land or building into a housing estate or block of flats.

But it looks like there's even more on the way.

The council's preferred strategy for the next 15 years is "to concentrate development opportunities in Barry and the south east zone" and the housing requirement for those 15 years is currently 7,500 more dwellings.

The council proudly announce that 92 per cent are satisfied with their overall performance, but Barry people will be able to have a real say at the next council elections in May 2012.

Dennis Harkus, Barry

Shocked by treatment

I READ with real shock and anger about the way the local Labour Party has treated one of its most dedicated and hardworking councillors.

Coun Richard Bertin has always served his constituents with great care and enthusiasm.

The people of Court ward, Barry, now have the simple choice of either backing Richard Bertin or the Goliath of the Labour Party machine, with all the spin that goes with it.

Good luck, Richard, for having the guts to speak out!

'VIOLENCE ON THE STREETS' – JUDGE

'Summary justice' was handed out to man who had knife at a Dinas Powys supermarket

– CARDIFF CROWN COURT IS TOLD

Report by AJ SICLUNA

CUSTOMERS at a supermarket in Dinas Powys were put in "considerable fear" when a man burst in armed with a knife – but soon afterwards Martin Draby (35) was taken behind the store and given a severe beating, Cardiff Crown Court was told.

Draby of Dinas Powys admitted before Vale of Glamorgan magistrates of having a bladed item and was committed to the crown court for sentence.

He was jailed for 34 weeks and told by Judge Philip Richards "This was serious behaviour. Knives are a recognised problem and the public fear the use of them."

He added: "I am absolutely sure you caused people considerable fear. If knives are carried in public places, there is a risk of violence and the possibility of fatal injuries. It must be made clear that there will be consequences for those who behave in this way."

Prosecutor Julian Greenwood said that at about 10pm on May 21, Draby burst into the Spar supermarket in Dinas Powys holding a knife behind his right buttock.

"It was to say the least, a very alarming incident," said Mr Greenwood.

Draby claimed he had been assaulted the previous month and had gone into the shop to remonstrate with a man who, he claimed, had been involved

.But seconds later, said Mr Greenwood, Draby was chased from the shop and badly beaten up behind the premises, suffering face and head cuts and an eye injury.

He later told the police that he had in the past been beaten up in the Castle Oak public house, had become paranoid as a result, and felt he would be assaulted again.

He claimed he had found the knife on the pavement outside the shop.

Said the judge: "From my knowledge of Dinas Powys, I am not aware of knives being left on the pavement."

Draby was said to have a previous conviction for causing a neighbour actual bodily harm by punching her in the face.

Draby's barrister David Purnell, said: "It has to be accepted that summary justice was meted out to him.

"In the past, he has been targeted by more than one person for repeated assaults. Those attackers have yet to be brought to justice."

The judge said: "There was violence on the streets of Dinas Powys".

Back home to celebrate...

Vale's marathon cyclists raised £20,000 on ride!

A GROUP of 14 Cowbridge cyclists have returned home from a momentous 700-mile cycle journey – raising nearly £20,000 for charity.

Julian Hitchcock, the managing director of the Bear Hotel in Cowbridge, and his team of 14 cyclists, began their journey in John O'Groats in the Scottish highlands on August 1, and travelled through Scotland, over to Ireland and then back home to Cowbridge.

The 14-day journey was in aid of the Velindre Stepping Stone Appeal to fight lung cancer; the most common cancerous disease diagnosed in 2,000 new patients each year in Wales.

The Stepping Stones Appeal works to provide better funding for lung cancer research, and educational grants to doctors and nurses.

The cyclists faced the extremes of the weather while tackling mountains, lochs, seas and hills.

WE DID IT! Julian Hitchcock is pictured celebrating with family friend, Sarah Dent.

Julian organized the venture as part of the Brains Captains' Climb, where 15 Welsh rugby captains are attempting to climb the world's highest volcano, Mount Kilimanjaro.

The Welsh captains are hoping to raise £1million for the Stepping Stones appeal which has been made more of a reality with Julian and his team's massive contribution.

Other cyclists who took part with Julian were Geoff Graham, Esther Hitchcock. Fred Hitchcock, Lydia Hitchcock, Harry Hitchcock, Isabel Graham, Johnnie Graham, Ed Graham, Simon Rees, Caroline Hole, Paul Hole, Jessica Rees-Hole, Rachel Price.

'Bombard councillors with your views on the cinema'– PROTEST GROUP URGES

by TIM CHAPMAN

THE Save Our Cinema Association has appealed to the public to lobby local councillors if they wish to support the organisation's campaign that anything other than the Theatre Royal being used as a cinema and arts centre is unacceptable.

Hafod Care has announced that it would like to build 42 flats and communal facilities for old people on the site.

The chairman of SOCA, Mr Bob Armstrong, said: "We hope that people will back our campaign and bombard individual councillors in writing with their views.

"For a tourist resort like Barry not to have a cinema can't be right.

"The council has talked of alternative sites. Where is an alternative position? There are very few suitable locations in the town, and if a building was knocked down to accommodate a cinema, local people may not want it there."

SOCA says it has established that as yet no formal planning application has been submitted for a new development on the site. It also says it has no confidence that a cinema complex will materialise either at the Waterfront, or at the Island.

Mr Armstrong pointed out: "The £4.18m being supplied by the Welsh Assembly Government for an extra care facility is not dependent on the Theatre Royal being the site.

The Waterfront is a far more suitable one – where supermarkets and other facilities are planned."

Mr Armstrong said that a facility for elderly people was first suggested at Nells Point two years ago, then Salisbury Road and now at the last option, the Theatre Royal, creating "a Catch 22".

Meanwhile, Labour councillors on the Vale Council told The GEM they were shocked at the news that SOCA may have missed out on the Theatre Royal.

They said they had been kept in the dark about proposals for the site and were "saddened" there had been little consultation from the ruling Conservative group on the council.

Councillor Margaret Alexander said: "I am extremely disappointed and sorry that the campaign has failed in its attempts to retain the building as a cinema.

"Barry still needs a cinema, there is no doubt about that. The action group must carry on campaigning for a cinema to be re-established in the town." Fellow councillor Stuart Egan said: "There is clearly a need for extra care facilities in the town, but we need to make sure it is the right extra care and is in the best location.

"The cinema sale has been undertaken by the owner, not the council, but we must make sure everything is done properly when it comes to any future development."

The Vale Council chose not to make a comment at this stage.

10p per child to make switch, but...

Call for free range eggs in Vale schools is rejected – on the grounds of cost!

THE Vale Council could switch from supplying battery-farmed eggs to schoolchildren to free range eggs – for a mere 10p per child per year.

Recently, Coun Rob Curtis called for the Vale Council to serve only free range eggs in its schools, but the idea was rejected on the grounds of cost.

However, a recent report to a council scrutiny committee has revealed that the cost of switching from battery to free range could be only 10p per child per year.

In the report, it was stated that the council currently purchases Lion-stamped battery eggs for use by its catering service.

The contract ends on March 31, 2012, with an option to extend for an extra year. Both battery and free range eggs are available under the agreement and both types of egg are Lion-stamped.

However, the report reveals that the Lion-stamped battery eggs are £16.46 per case of 180, while free range eggs are £22.35 for 180.

During the calendar year ending June 2010, the council bought 345 cases, all of which were battery eggs.

The cost of switching to free range, says the report, will be £2,032 over 12 months, rising from £5,678.70 to £7,710.75.

The Vale Council's website says that there are 20,270 school age children in the local authority area, which means that if each child paid an extra 10p over the year, the cost of switching to free range would be completely covered.

Coun Curtis told The GEM: "We are all aware of the current financial situation, and we want our council to monitor costs closely.

"However, choosing battery eggs over free range for children is too much. I am sure parents would be happier knowing the eggs were free range."

Coun Curtis added: "Most forward thinking councils have already gone down this path."

A Vale Council spokeswoman said that the most recent council meeting had decided to "maintain the status quo" and there were no plans at present to look again at the issue

• In a statement to The GEM, the neighbouring Bridgend County Borough Council confirmed that it only serves free range eggs to schoolchildren.

'Transparency' will be put to a council test

THE Vale Council is continuing with its plans to record all the payments over £500 it makes to suppliers on its website.

A deadline of September has been set for this change, which is being brought in to "promote transparency in the council's affairs".

A number of exemptions to this have been announced by the council, and these relate mainly to social care payments for items such as fostering and adoption, social and welfare benefits, and student loans.

However, exactly how much information will appear on the website is still not entirely clear, because the Vale Council's director of finance and property, Sian Davies, has written to council suppliers asking if they have any objections.

She says that the website will carry the amount paid, details of the payment, and the name of the supplier.

Suppliers are invited to respond and say if they have any objections to these details being made public, and they are being asked to set out their grounds for objection.

It will be interesting to see how many suppliers will object on the grounds of commercial confidentiality.

Presumably, any firm with a council contract will have reservations (to put it mildly) about their commercial rivals seeing the price that they do the job for.

Alan Jenkins, the Vale Council's head of accountancy and resource management, said: "It should be noted that it is presently the council's intention to publish only summary details of the charges made by suppliers, and not individual transactions.

"Where suppliers have made a request to opt out of publication, we will consider each application on its merits, seeking advice from the Information Commissioner's Office where appropriate, before a final decision to publish is made."

WI RAISES FUNDS FOR ARTHRITIS RESEARCH

With Llandough maternity unit under threat...

Health board pledges its commitment to 'excellent care' for local mothers

by TIM CHAPMAN

A REGIONAL Assembly Member has criticised plans to close the maternity unit at Llandough Hospital – which would mean mothers-to-be from the Vale having to make longer journeys into Cardiff.

The Cardiff and Vale University Health Board says the proposals detailed in its 'Making a Difference' document will help to tackle issues such as duplication of services in Cardiff and the Vale.

Andrew Davies AM told The GEM: "This decision will place a huge burden on families from the Vale, who will now have to travel right across Cardiff for maternity services.

"With all projections showing an increase in birth rates, this decision goes against all of the assurances that were given when the original maternity unit was downgraded a couple of years ago."

Mr Davies said he was also disappointed that such an important decision was announced in August with the Assembly in recess.

"I feel strongly that there should have been consultation with elected members before making this decision public, particularly given the implications for expectant parents.

"What is vital now is that the additional resources that have supposedly been promised for community services are identified and clearly explained.

"It will be of no benefit to introduce short term fixes merely to placate people's concerns over the unit's closure."

Mr Davies said he has a strong personal affiliation to Llandough Hospital because his four children were born there and his wife also worked in the unit.

Mr Davies and local MP Alun Cairns met the University Health Board's chief executive last Wednesday to voice their reservations about what was happening.

Mr Cairns said: "Naturally, I am alarmed at the potential loss of the maternity unit from Llandough. I have met with the chief executive to raise my concerns.

"The development of some facilities, particularly stroke services, is great news and we need to ensure that actually happens, particularly in that this is a late change to the UHB's last strategy."

The Cardiff and Vale University Health Board chief executive, Jan Williams, confirmed she had met local politicians to discuss their concerns and outline the plans in more detail.

Mrs Williams explained: "The UHB proposal to transfer the midwifery-led unit at University Hospital Llandough to the University Hospital of Wales needs to be set in the context of our commitment to maintaining choice for pregnant women – while also tackling the duplication of services across the Vale and Cardiff.

"This proposal in no way weakens our commitment to the midwifery-led model of care, and women will continue to have a choice about where to give birth; at home, at UHW in either a midwife-led or consultant-led unit, or at a hospital in a neighbouring health board area.

"Ante-natal and post-natal care will continue to be provided locally and Barry Hospital will have a major role to play in providing this care to mums in the area."

She pointed out: "Of the some 6,700 babies born in Cardiff and the Vale last year, only around six per cent were born at Llandough.

"At a time when we are nearing the completion of a new £16 million Welsh Assembly Government-funded women's unit at UHW, it is important that we take the opportunity to align our staff and financial resources to best effect.

"The new purpose-built facility will be able to accommodate the needs of all mothers, and will provide an excellent environment to support the new model of a single midwifery-led facility for mums in Cardiff and the Vale.

"The unit includes a number of rooms with birthing pools, home from home birthing facilities as well as new obstetric theatres, providing all the care a mum-to-be and her baby could need under one roof."

Mrs Williams added: "Cardiff and Vale is committed to providing excellent care for mothers and babies, and this will not change with these proposals."

CCTV arrests

CCTV operated by the Safer Vale Partnership, assisted with 12 arrests in the week ending August 15.

It contacted the police on 50 occasions, with three arrests made at Holton Road, Barry, concerning theft on August 12.

Another seven arrests were made at Holton Road; one involving assault and three public order on August 13, and an additional three concerning assault on August 14.

Finally, two arrests for alleged assault were made at Railway Terrace, Penarth (August 14).

The National Eisteddfod is coup for Vale

THE Vale of Glamorgan Council has been working with the organisers of the Welsh National Eisteddfod for some time to bring the event to the Vale in 2012.

We are delighted that the organisers have now approved the Llandow site as the venue.

The National Eisteddfod is a prestigious event, which will attract thousands of visitors to our area.

Those of us who live in the Vale will be able to enjoy an internationally-recognised social and cultural festival on our 'doorstep'. We are looking forward to working with the organisers to produce a first-class event.

Good news for Rhoose Point

Good news for Rhoose Point, too, with cabinet approval for plans that will progress much-needed development work in the area.

The council has offered administrators representing Cofton Land and Property, which currently owns the land, the chance to pay a single £20,000 'without prejudice' amount to secure a land transfer, which will allow progression of drainage and highway adoption matters.

The council cannot progress these issues until land, including the lagoons, is transferred into its possession.

We want to see all outstanding foul and surface water drainage matters resolved with Dwr Cymru / Welsh Water and general improvements made.

We have been trying to resolve the problems at Rhoose Point for some time and want to commence work as soon as possible for the benefit of residents.

Airport move

Another pleasing development is our new partnership with Cardiff Airport. Our contact centre, C1V (Contact One Vale), has been chosen to provide the airport's emergency contact service.

C1V provides a 24-hour, seven days a week emergency service to local residents and it is the first council contact centre to provide this type of service for the private sector.

In the event of a major incident at the airport, the contact centre would be the first point of call for worried relatives, travellers and the media.

C1V would also step in as the airport's emergency contact centre in the event of major disruption to air travel, such as the recent ash cloud crisis.

Forces' welfare

Finally, a new service aimed at our armed forces: The Vale Council was proud to be chosen to pilot the Ministry of Defence's 'Armed Forces Community Welfare Pathway'.

This scheme aims to improve access to services for serving and former military personnel and their families. Only three councils in England and one in Scotland have also been chosen to pilot the scheme.

A key feature of the Welfare Pathway is a new national point of contact telephone number, 08000 223366, which will increase the chance of people getting the help they need – particularly those who don't know where to turn to for advice.

If you have friends or family who are in the services, or who are veterans, please tell them about the scheme.

Steph is a top football tipster!

STEPH BATT, the wife of Stephen Batt of SJB Complete Cleaning Company, left the rest of the competition in her wake when she entered a World Cup football prediction competition at her favourite local pub The Gordon Bennett in Broad Street, Barry.

Steph receives her award from Ben Bennett.

Steph said: "I only entered the competition as a bit of fun to teach my husband a lesson. He enters the football competition every year and when he was filling in his entry, I said can I have an entry form? And he laughed at me, saying what do women know about football…leave it to the men and get back in the kitchen!"

Steph went ahead and entered, winning the World Cup Trophy and a cash prize of £300, with runner-up Mr Mike Bryl, and Mitchell Bryl and Dennis Maunder in third and fourth.

Ben Bennett (organiser of the competition) said: "She's not the only woman to have lifted the trophy.

"I don't think Steve will live this one down. There were 47 people in the World Cup competition and well done to Steph, she proved that she really does know her stuff."

The pub also runs the KGB Trophy (a prediction competition) that runs the length of the Premiership season.

This season, the competition has more than 70 people in it and has attracted attention from as far away as Australia, London and Ireland.

Vale mystery objects!

LAST week's GEM story 'UFO is a case for Sherlock' sparked a response from readers over a wide area.

Initially, three people contacted The GEM last week to say that that on Sunday, August 8 they had seen an orange-red object travelling across the sky in a westerly direction, at about the time people were settling down to watch the new BBC series Sherlock.

Mr David Thomas, who lives in Cowbridge, and was a commercial airline pilot for 28 years, was out in his courtyard at 10.30pm when he saw what looked like fireworks in the Swansea direction.

"Four disc-like objects moved from west to east toward me. The one at the rear of the formation climbed out of sight. The other three continued past and were orange, disc-like and large."

An aeroplane was in the sky at the time, so Mr Thomas was able to distinguish them clearly from it – the objects were far larger. They later appeared twice more.

Mr Thomas said he could not speculate on what the objects were, they were "unexplained".

Mr John Trudgian of Trebeferad, Llantwit Major, said: "I saw the object on that Sunday travelling in a westerly direction. It was not travelling mega fast, but there was no noise."

Two readers in Barry have reported similar sightings.

Liz Eales said: "I was looking out of my window at 10.10pm last Sunday and noticed a bright light coming from the direction of Porthkerry Park, When it got nearer, I thought it looked like a hot air balloon, but it was quite high.

"I couldn't actually see the canopy, but there were definitely flames rising from what appeared to be a basket. There were wires going up from the basket to whatever was above it. It was travelling quite fast. It was no optical illusion."

Balloons, Chinese lanterns, or something else? Whatever the flying objects were, they remain a mystery!

DOTTIE.

Sensitive Dottie needs a kind (but firm) hand

THIS WEEK: Dottie is an eight years (plus) terrier who a spokeswoman says is quick to over-react when handled or restrained.

"She is also quite a strong character, independent and quick to rule the roost if allowed.

"She is currently extremely overweight and struggles with exercise, but with a correct diet and gentle exercise, she'll soon build up her fitness, as she does love her walks.

"She takes time to build up a bond with someone and fully trust them but once she does, she is loving and loyal.

"She is housetrained and fine to be left for a few hours.{

Type of home needed: "She needs an experienced owner who is able to continue her training with regard to being handled.

"She needs an adult-only home and she needs to be the only dog in the home.

"Please consider her, as she is really missing a home environment and the company of an owner."

'Those with Welsh ancestry have great pride'

Australian PM's message to the people of Barry

The Prime Minister of Australia, Julia Gillard MP, has sent a message of thanks to the people of Barry and says she hopes to revisit the town in the future.

The message was delivered from Down Under by Frances Bedford an MP from South Australia, who visited the Senedd and met Vale Assembly Member Jane Hutt.

The message was formally presented to the Mayor of Barry Town Council, Coun Karl Kuhnell, by Jane Hutt in the Mayor's Parlour, on August 16.

The message read:

"Countless families have emigrated from Wales to every corner of the world over the past few centuries, but all of us who share Welsh ancestry remember our origins with great pride.

"When I set off from Southampton on a ship bound for Australia as a four-year-old, I knew that in finding a new home I would never forget my old one – and I never have.

"Wales and the beautiful seaside town of Barry hold a special place in my heart and I still have memories of playing in Queen Street as child and my return visit as a teenager in the late 1970s.

"I was deeply touched and humbled by the messages of support from the mayor and people of Barry when I became Prime Minister of Australia, and hope to be able to return that kindness with a visit in the future.

"Meanwhile, I wish the people of Barry every success, confident that the spirit and tenacity of the Welsh character will bring your community a bright future."

Francis Bedford also brought two gifts – a gold medallion issued by the South Australian Parliament and a photograph of her with Julia Gillard.

Coun Karl Kuhnell said he was pleased to receive the message and gifts on behalf of the town.

C & G Morgan & Son win Great Taste Awards for the third, consecutive year!

C & G Morgan & Son from Blackmill, Bridgend, is celebrating after winning a prestigious UK Great Taste Award once again.

Last year the company was presented with a coveted three star Gold Great Taste Award for its rib of beef, together with a one star Gold Great Taste Award for its sirloin steak.

It is the third year in succession that Charles, Gill and their son Richard, have won a Great Taste Award, this year for their rib-eye steak.

C & G Morgan & Son is a ninth generation farming family business which runs a typical Welsh hill farm known as Gellifeddgaer on the outskirts of Bridgend.

It rears quality lamb, beef and pork, selling produce from its farm gate as well as at the Bridgend and Caerphilly Farmers' Markets.

The family began selling direct 11 years ago with the formation of the Bridgend Farmers' Market and have been actively involved with the organisation throughout this time, regularly attending the monthly markets held at Porthcawl.

Resignation shock

I FEEL I must write to express my complete surprise and shock that Coun Richard Bertin of Barry has decided to resign from the Labour party – after claims that he was bullied and harassed.

Whenever I have met Richard he has always been a staunch and loyal supporter of the Labour party. For him to resign from the party to which he has given so much time and dedication must have been a major decision.

I hope his accusations of bullying are thoroughly and independently investigated by the national party, as the Labour movement cannot afford to lose hard working and committed councillors like Richard.

VALE MP's VIEWPOINT

Eisteddfod: we have a great story to tell

Vale MP Alun Cairns reports to GEM readers

THE GEM has reported recently that the National Eisteddfod of Wales is coming to Llandow in 2012.

The weeklong event during the first week in August will attract hundreds of thousands of visitors to the Vale. It is the premier Welsh cultural festival, and I should add that it is not for Welsh speakers exclusively.

The week is made up of cultural competitions, political lobbying, sports initiatives, music, dance visual arts, launches of public and private initiatives and much more.

Science and technology has also become a greater part of the festival over recent years as it has adapted to changing demands. People of all ages will find plenty to do.

It is where Wales comes together in so many ways. When I attended this year's event in Ebbw Vale, the first people I met were ladies from Cowbridge Merched y Wawr – the Welsh WI.

They were championing the benefits of their organisation and welcoming people for teas and coffee, while raising money for charity in the process.

I am aware that the Vale Council, local farmers and the National Eisteddfod have been in negotiations for some time and we now need to make sure that the event is also a win for the local community and economy.

There is no doubt that hotels, guesthouses and B&Bs will all sell out. I suspect that some pubs will also do well! However, we need to ensure that local communities gain the wider financial benefit.

The Eisteddfod organisers estimate that the economic benefit for the area is in the region of £6-£8 million. However, having been to almost every Eisteddfod for the last 30 years, there is a challenge channelling that spend outside of the festival perimeter.

One café in Ebbw Vale highlighted that they had gone to the effort of translating their menus, but did not feel the gain from increased custom.

We have a great story to sell locally. During the two-year run-up to the festival, we need to be drawing attention to the fantastic shopping delights of Cowbridge, Llantwit and Barry, the privilege of the heritage coast, the challenge of local cycle routes, the delight of our local history both ancient and modern, including (of course) our Barry link to Gwynfor Evans, the Welsh language campaigner.

The Eisteddfod has a part to play in this but so do we. There will be some difficulties like traffic congestion during the week, but I hope that everyone will put those aside because shops, bars, restaurants and other businesses are winning, too.

College cyclists pedal to the aid of Barnardo's!

STUDENTS and staff from Barry College joined together to raise nearly £1,300 for Barnardo's Cymru with a charity bike ride.

The nine cyclists joined the Barnardo's South Wales 'On Your Bike' ride, a 38-mile sponsored cycle through the Vale.

Barry College assistant head of construction David Davies, wood trades tutor Ken Allen, brickwork lecturer Paul Sebburn, part-time brickwork lecturer Paul Glover and Sue Jones who works in the college coffee shop, were joined by a group of five construction students: Alex Brereton, Nicholas Minardi, Simon Prideaux and Stephen Murray. Friends Bra Jones and Scott Jones also took part.

They raised £1,289.66 for Barnado's. Rachel Madge, events fundraiser for Barnardo's Cymru said: "We would like to say a big thank you to everyone who took part from Barry College. The amount raised is absolutely fantastic and will make a big difference to vulnerable children and young people in the area."

THREE HOUSES RAIDED, COURT TOLD

Local men went on 'burglary epidemic'

REPORT by AJ SICLUNA

TWO young men from Barry took part in a burglary "epidemic" in Penarth one night in June.

They raided three houses and made off in two cars, Cardiff Crown Court heard.

Russell Crowe (18) and Thomas Crolla (18) were each sent to a young offender institution for 14 months.

Each had pleaded guilty at Vale of Glamorgan Magistrates Court to three offences of burglary and two of taking vehicles without authority.

Judge Rhys Rowlands told them: "You acted together, the offences were at night, and no fewer than three houses were involved."

He added: "I hope you will grow up and start to behave."

Prosecutor Carl Williams said on the night of June 5, the three went on "something of a burglary spree" in Penarth.

Their first target was to raid a house in Victoria Road, where the occupants were asleep.

They took a plasma television and other items and also made off in a Mercedes 4x4, which was crashed into a wall in the drive, causing damage of £1,500; and also taken was a Nissan Almeira, which was found abandoned in Archer Road.

They then broke into a house in Stanwell Road, where the occupiers were out visiting friends. Electrical items were taken.

The next house they entered was in Westbourne Road.

Later, said Mr Williams, the two were heard boasting about their crimes.

When arrested, Crowe admitted the burglaries, and said the two of them were drunk and "skint".

Keith Edwards for Crowe, said: "As a result of this burglary epidemic, he knows he will be going into custody.

"Although it was a crime wave, nothing of sentimental value was taken.

"He has recently become somewhat destabilised because of a family bereavement."

David Purnell for Crolla, said:

"For the last two years, he has behaved in an immature way.

"Sadly, he is easily impressed, but he did have some empathy with the victims."

DISABILITY DANCE PERFORMANCE IS 'PICTURE PERFECT'

DISABILITY dance group 'Local Motion' has celebrated another successful year in the Vale by putting on a special dance performance at the YMCA in Barry.

Dancers with a range of disabilities and special needs performed their piece 'Picture Perfect' in front of an audience at the Motion Control dance programme's summer dance recital. They joined more than 100 other young people who showed off the skills they had learned at dance sessions throughout the year.

The 'Local Motion' group had been working on this particular routine for six weeks, after the moves were choreographed by dance tutors Sophie Squires and Sam Barnett.

Delighted with the performance, dance co-ordinator Emma Mallam said: "Dance is a great activity for all ages and abilities. It really broadens your horizons and the 'Local Motion' dancers have developed the skills required to perform in front of audiences with confidence and enjoyment."

Local Motion is funded by Children in Need, and dance is just one of the many varied sporting activities that are available in the Vale for people with disabilities and special needs.

To find out more, contact the Vale of Glamorgan Council's Disability Sport Wales development officer Simon Jones on 01446 704728.

'Local Motion' and other dance classes run by Vibe Experience will resume in September - for further details, contact Emma Mallam on 01446 733622.

Cage's Apprentice is not quite as magical as hoped for

SCREEN TALK

by GARETH JAMIESON

IF there is one film producer out there who enjoys taking gambles it's Jerry Bruckheimer.

From making a film about a theme park ride that proceeded to slay box offices (Pirates of the Carribean), to making summer blockbusters that arrive with a bang and are a commercial, if not always critical, success, Bruckheimer is always at the forefront, arguably the most important figure in the films he produces.

His latest film, The Sorcerer's Apprentice, draws its inspiration from the sequence of the same name in Disney's Fantasia, but transported to modern day New York and in live-action.

Balthazar Blake (Nicolas Cage) is a master sorcerer attempting to defend the city from his arch-nemesis, Maxim Horvath (Alfred Molina). Looking for assistance in his fight, he recruits Dave Stutler (Jay Baruchel), who is given a crash course in the art and science of magic in the hope that he is the 'prime Merlinean'.

Together, the pair must band together to stop Horvath, and his apprentice Drake (Toby Kebbel) from raising a feared witch whose aim is to take over the world...

Nicolas Cage has had somewhat of a patchy decade, but one area where he can seemingly do no wrong is with films for a younger audience.

While the likes of Bangkok Dangerous and Next have proven to be as enjoyable as a road trip with George Michael, he has hit commercial paydirt with the likes of the National Treasure franchise, while also recently lending his vocal talents to the likes of Astro Boy and G-Force.

Seemingly, the actor is enjoying making more child-friendly fare, and The Sorcerer's Apprentice fits snugly into this description; however, much like the National Treasure films, this is a fleetingly pleasing, and insubstantial, affair that will entertain but not live long in the memory.

Cage's manic energy and unique acting style means that even in the most woeful of films he is watchable, and the same can be said here, with the actor offering a nice turn that hardly stretches his acting muscles.

However, given that he is playing an ancient sorcerer, you'd think that Cage would loosen the shackles a little bit and offer something a bit more interesting and exciting. As it is, he simply plays the wizened tutor role, something that he does well, but you can't help but feel this role was Cage's opportunity to do a Johnny Depp and create an indelible character, rather than a token one.

Opposite him sees Jay Baruchel take a massive leap from supporting player in the likes of Tropic Thunder and Judd Apatow's films, to co-lead in a summer blockbuster. It's a transformation that is not completely smooth, the actor finding his way through the early part of the film, but his likeability and charm makes him an easy to root for hero.

It's a shame that he and Cage aren't given more of an opportunity to show the teacher-apprentice relationship, the film minimising their repartee. A nice little moment where Balthazar pretends to be Dave's uncle is the only moment of this, and a few more of them wouldn't have gone amiss.

While Toby Kebbel's screen talent is wasted in a slight and underwhelming turn as Horvath's apprentice, Alfred Molina makes a wonderful meal of the scenery as the evil Horvath.

Dapperly dressed and ready for action, Molina does a good line in arch villains, and here, while he's a touch low-key, the performance works, the scenes between him and Cage sparking very well.

Considering the large amount of box office money his films have raked in, Jon Turteltaub is somewhat of an anonymous director, his films well made and executed, but lacking in any individuality or identity, and the same can be said here.

While he turns New York into a gothic world of magic and mystery where anything can be used, including, cleverly, an eagle from the side of the Chrysler Building, and offers value for money in terms of the spectacle, there is little here that Turteltaub hasn't mined before. His pass at the actual 'Sorcerer's Apprentice' sequence involving the mops is similarly technically superb, but lacks the heart of the original – plus the rejigged musical cue doesn't help matters.

The director's grasp of using effects works in spades – it is a film that hardly skimps on the CGI budget – but there is little spirit to proceedings, something that is highlighted by the climax's failure to really resonate. With the stakes involved for the characters being so high, the impact is severely lacking – and its rushed nature detracts from what is on screen.

With script input from six writers, the story is as solid as you would expect, the mix of mythology and the modern day sitting nicely alongside Turteltaub's visuals, but the characters and their motivations are too lightly sketched.

Of course, these criticisms are hardly going to bother the audience the film is aimed at – after all, the important factors that provide entertainment are all well done.

However, as a piece of work it is a serviceable portion of entertainment and nothing more, which is a shame as The Sorcerer's Apprentice had the scope to be more.

VERDICT – Satisfying if a touch too flat, The Sorcerer's Apprentice will be more than magical to the target audience given how well executed the effects and spectacle are. But the rest of the film feels too lacklustre to really match the strong visual element and makes for entertaining, if slight, work. Enjoyable.

NSPCC thanks GEM

I WOULD like to thank The GEM for the very nice coverage in last week's paper of our garden party. I am sure all the committee members will join me in thanking you for the full page spread and the nice photographs.

Chris Franks AM at the Helen O'Grady Drama Academy, Sully.

THERE was an 'extra' at a Sully drama school's rehearsal for their latest play.

Plaid Cymru AM Chris Franks attended a class for children preparing for their African-themed play 'How the Lion got His Roar'.

The South Wales Central AM said: "The children were outstanding and the costumes looked excellent. It was obvious everyone had worked hard on the project. Drama seems a good way for children to get confidence.

"The Helen O'Grady Drama Academy is involved in an ambulance appeal to raise money to improve the health of people in Tanzania, in Africa. This is a good way to get young people and children to consider the lives of others across the world."

All the fun of the fair!

COSMESTON Medieval Village is holding a fair on August 29-30 at 11am-5pm.

War with the French, plague and famine – the 'good old days of 1350' were dark and terrible times – but they still know how to have fun at Cosmeston!

A rebuilt medieval community with villagers, animals, gardens and buildings full of artefacts will demonstrate what life was like over 600 years ago!

There will be armoured warriors, battling with sword and axe, falconry, have a go archery and mumming.

There will also be games and craft stalls.

It all promises to be a fun day out at the Cosmeston Medieval Village!

Admission: Adults £5, children, OAPs and concessions £3, family (2+2) £12.

For further information, call 029 2070 1678.

Long distance cycle ride for charity funds

LOCAL residents Simon Mudie of Llandough and Jessica Hill, enthusiastic volunteers with MDF The Bipolar Organisation, are cycling 1,000 miles from John O'Groats to Lands End, on August 25 to September 9.

Simon says: "People have been very generous, and we've been pleasantly surprised how willingly they have talked about mental health once the subject is broached.

"This opening up process is the very core of what we are all doing, as it provides the gateway to mutual understanding ,seeking support, and a greater sense of social cohesiveness after breaking down some of the invisible barriers surrounding invisible illness."

AM's design visit

VALE AM Jane Hutt enjoyed a visit to Bryn Hafren Comprehensive School students' show of GCSE, AS, and A-Level art and design work.

She said: "The work was of such a high standard and it was inspiring to see the range of design technology and products made, especially the furniture and lights, which were all very marketable."

Ruckleys – Barry's specialists in official uniforms

RUCKLEYS, the uniform specialists in Barry, are going from strength-to-strength.

As well as stocking the usual school uniform basics – such as socks, trousers, skirts, pinafores, gym kits, cardigans, hair accessories and coats – they now stock a large proportion of local schools' official uniforms.

These schools include St Helen's, Sant Curig, Barry Island, Oakfield, Rhws, Barry Comprehensive, and Barry Sixth form.

They have a changing room and are conveniently open seven days a week, and even offer an easy-plan uniform club to help save for the back-to-school period.

As usual, their Start-rite shoes are proving popular, probably due to the fact that they are full leather, available in half sizes and width fitting and come with a school-wear guarantee.

New this year, Ruckleys are now selling quality leather rugby boots at a fraction of the high street prices!

Call in now, Monday to Saturday, 9.30am-5.30pm and Sunday 11am-4pm.

FOR EXPERT ADVICE...
It has to be the Barry Music Shop!

LEFT: For specialist advice on all things musical, Jon and Sam of 'JPL Sound the Barry Music Centre' will provide all the answers you need.

WITH a lot of girls and boys attending their first term in secondary school, it is sometimes their first opportunity to learn to play a musical instrument.

With such a vast range of instruments taught in school these days, it could be an unnecessary, expensive purchase for an instrument if no one in the family has any musical experience.

At JPL Sound - the Barry Music Shop – whether you are looking for the first guitar, flute, clarinet, trumpet, trombone, violin or even a simple recorder – look no further!

We source good instruments at sensible prices, together with free help and advice.

The help and advice we have to offer cannot be given by supermarkets or catalogue stores!

So many customers made the bad mistake last year of purchasing either the wrong size or wrong type of guitar/violin/wind instrument for their child from a catalogue.

All the Barry Music Shop staff are experts and will advise on all aspects of your instrument purchase, even to the point of saving you money!

For those mums and dads who have been rooting through the attic to find an old guitar from their school days to hand down to their own children, don't forget that the shop also carries out specialist repairs, re-stringing and tuning on old guitars.

You then need books! The Barry Music Shop carries the largest selection of tutorial, examination and general music books in the Vale, together with a very quick ordering service.

For all your instruments and a huge range of accessories, we are well worth a visit!

School 'with a true passion for dance'

NICOLA PEROS Ballet School, a member of The Royal Academy of Dance, starts its new term on Saturday, September 4 at St Nicholas Hall, St Nicholas Road, Barry.

Dance is extremely popular with all ages and is a healthy, enjoyable activity.

The Nicola Peros Ballet School can boast excellent exam results and are extremely proud of Mia Watkins, who has been given her third year training with the Royal Ballet School, and of Rochelle Davies, who has been offered further training with the Central Ballet School in London.

New beginners are welcome, especially boys, aged from seven-years-old to 14 years old.

The school has started rehearsing for its next big performance, due in 2011 – which will be Peter and the Wolf.

Anyone is welcome to join the school, if they have a passion for dance.

Please call 01446 721899.

An active end of term at the Barry Comp!

BARRY Comprehensive School devoted the last week of term to one of its most popular annual events – Activity Week.

Pupils from years 7, 8 and 9 spent the week out of lessons, and out of uniform, taking part in a range of interesting and unusual activities and trips.

Out of school, pupils visited Ferndale Skate Park, Llangorse Multi-Activity Centre, Cadoxton Bowling Club, Porthkerry Park, Big Pit Mining Museum, Oakwood, Drayton Manor, Go Ape at Margam Park, Bristol Zoo, Merthyr Mawr Dunes, helped Friends of Plymouth Great Woods in Cardiff, went swimming, tried sea fishing, went to the cinema, had a barbecue at Southerndown, and went camping in the Gower.

There was plenty to do in school as well. This year's activities included building and flying model aeroplanes, volleyball, table tennis, badminton, football, dodgeball, basketball, indoor stargazing and enterprise activities under the guidance of Careers Wales.

Our thanks to everyone involved for making the week a great success. AC

EDUCATION & TRAINING

Ruth Wellstead and Gillian Arthur were reunited at Barry College.

Celtic Learners offer you exciting courses

CELTIC LEARNERS is pleased to present an exciting range of humanities-based adult education courses suitable for all levels which are being held at Barry Library from September.

The course starts off with The Real Robin Hood on September 11, which launches a varied programme of day-schools and weekly classes, from the truth behind Bedlam, through to Legends of Welsh Landscapes and Seven Wonders of the Ancient World.

As one of the principal lecturers, Kishli Laister-Scott, said: "As a Vale resident, I was acutely aware of the lack of thought-provoking classes aimed at adults.

"Our courses in Barry feel long over-due, but we are thrilled that we can at last provide an alternative for people who want to challenge themselves and broaden their horizons."

We have also scheduled an innovative programme of courses at our venue in Cardiff city centre.

Full details can be found at www.celticlearnersnetwork.org.uk or call 07870 888 368/07564 470 089.

Barry College is celebrating 50 years at heart of Vale community

BARRY College has welcomed students and staff, past and present, to a special party celebrating 50 years at the heart of the Vale of Glamorgan.

At the special 50th birthday party, visitors had a chance to see how the college has changed and developed over the last five decades, as well as catch up with old friends and tutors.

Guided tours of the college's main Colcot Road site were held and there was a special exhibition featuring pictures of the college through the years, with recollections from staff and students.

Two friends reunited were Gillian Arthur and Ruth Wellstead. Best of friends since they were little, both studied at Barry College in the 1960s, but have not seen each other "in such a long time".

"It's absolutely fantastic! We haven't seen each other for so long," Gillian said. "I've enjoyed coming back today, but it's even more fabulous now!"

"I don't come down that often," Ruth, who now lives in England, explained. "We used to see each other every month – now it's more like every other year. So when I saw her photograph in the exhibition, I was amazed!"

Guests also had the chance to see courses Barry College has offered through the years – such as cookery for newlyweds and sheep shearing – in an exhibition of past prospectuses. Birthday cake and party bags full of college goodies were on hand for all.

The Barry Amateur Radio Society set up at the college for a special anniversary broadcast, and got in contact with a number of European locations – including Bari in Italy!

The party ended with a special 'balloon pop'. Former students and staff joined with college chair of governors, Peter Cope, and local dignitaries, including Vale of Glamorgan Mayor and Mayoress Colin and Ruby Osborne, Barry Mayor Karl Kuhnell and consort Meryl Kuhnell, the Vale AM, Jane Hutt, and MP Alun Cairns to burst glitter-filled balloons in a daytime pyrotechnic display.

Speaking just before the 'Balloon Pop', Barry College principal and chief executive, Paul Halstead, said: "When the college opened 50 years ago, it had 10 members of staff and 484 students.

"The college now has about 500 staff and enrolled 10,047 students last year, so it has grown a little bit! We have had 100s of thousands of students over that long period.

"I would like to thank you all for coming – it's wonderful to see so many of you here, including so many of the original staff and students.

"We are delighted, and grateful to all our guests and everyone who has contributed towards the party."

Don't panic! Careers Wales will guide you through all the options

RESULTS day can be a stressful time. For many students, it's a day of celebration as their hard work pays off, and they can begin to put their career plans and ideas into action.

However, some students may not have done as well as they expected, or may not have decided what they want to do next.

With intense competition for university places, many young people may be worried about their future if their results aren't what they had hoped for.

Whatever your results – don't panic! Careers Wales is here to help anyone receiving exam results this summer. There are options open to you and lots of help to choose what's right for you.

As well as teachers and course tutors being available on results day, careers advisers will be visiting most schools and colleges to offer free information and advice.

Advisers will also be available at Careers Wales centres across Wales throughout the summer to help people with their future plans.

Grainne Wilson, education careers business manager, Careers Wales Cardiff and Vale said: "Our advice to young people is to try not to make hasty decisions.

"By taking your time and taking the right advice, you can make sure you're making the right choices. Careers Wales can help by providing information and advice about courses available, as well as local employment and training opportunities."

Anyone waiting for exam results should also look out in the post for the Where Now? leaflet produced by Careers Wales and the Welsh Assembly Government. This gives a summary of all your main options at results time.

For further information and advice contact the Learning and Careers Advice helpline 0800 100 900 (if calling from a mobile ring 029 20906801- standard mobile rates apply) or visit www.careerswales.com

HAVE SOME 'ME TIME'

FOR those of us who work full time, wouldn t it be good if, once we arrived home after a hard day s work, the rest of the time was free for us to do whatever we wanted – socialising and relaxing, with no jobs to do on the home, garden or cars.

Not having to go out shopping is sometimes good!

For those of you who can t get out so easily, you will also find our 'Services to Your Door feature a useful page to save.

Here, we have a number of people who will all bring their services to your door to make life easier for you.

- Choose blinds, carpets and other household interiors in the comfort of your own home. No fighting the crowds in town, and no wasting petrol driving around.
- Why not learn something new? Tuition at home is so much more fun.
- Bring in someone to do your household chores – what a treat!
- Why run around looking for items to be maintained when the companies will come to you for your household domestic appliances, vehicles, garden equipment etc?
- There are also deliveries of food to your home – another treat – so, go on, give yourself some 'ME TIME .

Haydn and Eleri celebrate ten years of business

IT'S all (pump) systems go at the office of Haydn and Eleri Lloyd, Ffynnonlwyd Farm, Llangynin.

When Haydn first bought the business, he carried out all engineering work himself, with just one part time office worker running the administrative side of the business; but as the business grew, Haydn employed more staff to get to the figure they employ today.

At this point, Eleri gave up her job in the public sector to work full time for the business.

An enthusiastic, hardworking team, consisting of experienced engineers and office staff, deal with the day-to-day call-outs to tailor-made systems.

Allpump Services have built a good reputation for their expertise, helpfulness, methodical approach and friendliness.

They receive regular calls from customers complimenting the workforce on their professionalism from the time the call is answered, to the finished product.

At Allpump, there is always someone at the end of the telephone who can advise customers on any technical issue, whether its advice on buying a pump, to fittings to filtration and water systems. We offer good quality pumps that are value for money and cost effective.

Allpump are conscious of the spiralling cost of energy and are helping customers to become more cost efficient and environmentally friendly. Allpump have recently introduced inverter control pumps that use less electricity.

Addressing climate change, Allpump can run heating systems on wind-operating pump, where electricity is not an option, solar for farm dairies and heat from plate coolers.

With the potential of the government introduction of NDZ in Wales; Allpump Services are introducing a slurry separator which can be used in conjunction with the existing Allpump dirty water system.

This is potentially a major growth area as legislation changes.

Floyds Environmental Services was set up in 2001. Steve Floyd, the Managing Director, has a background in the liquid waste industry stretching back to 1992.

Our trained operatives have years of experience in the liquid waste field, and the installation standards we work to are second to none. Floyds Environmental are one of the few companies in South Wales licensed by Dwr Cymru to make connections into the main sewerage system, so providing a 'one stop shop' for the installation of liquid waste pipework.

The company can undertake jobs of any size and complexity in the following fields:

- Installation of cess pits, septic tanks, sewers, drains, interceptor traps, sewage treatment plants and rainwater harvesting systems.
- Repair and clearing of drains, sewers, cess pits, septic tanks and interceptor traps.
- Emptying of cess pits, septic tanks and interceptor traps.
- High pressure jetting
- Internal inspection of pipelines by CCTV.

Floyds Environmental Services have many very satisfied customers in both the domestic and commercial sectors, and are willing for selected testimonials to be provided.

Jasper signs before Bellamy!

ABOVE: Jasper's act is part of Cardiff City's policy to pioneer more pre-match entertainment.

Barry magician is one of Cardiff City's new signings!

CARDIFF CITY has made a new signing – award-winning Barry magician and mentalist Jasper Blakeley.

City believe the arrival of Jasper will help in their pioneering drive to provide pre-match entertainment outside the ground.

Jasper said: "I put pen to paper last Thursday, and I'm going to be providing entertainment before Cardiff's home matches.

"I had a trial which was held on the day of the Cardiff City, Sheffield Utd match and had a crowd of 150 people enjoying the show.

"The atmosphere was great – there was magic, games, competitions and giveaways."

The idea is for Jasper to provide tailor-made family entertainment that makes it a bit more of a day out for fans and helps in crowd flow: people who arrive early at the ground know they can get something to eat and drink and enjoy the act, avoiding a last minute stampede to the ground.

Along with Jasper, City are also providing other attractions such as a space for fans to take photographs, and a ball training area.

Jasper explained: "I perform an hour before the kick off and do half an hour. A friend of mine, Phil Jay, one of the country's top magicians recommended me."

Roger in Lazarus-style comeback to make the final!

RAIN, or the lack of it, has had a marked effect on results on grass greens this year, but a game in Cowbridge last month was abandoned after only five ends because of rain.

This match was between Cowbridge and Llantwit ladies. Both captains agreed to restart the game last week, but this time it rained heavily prior to the game, forcing cancellation. The clubs agreed to share the points.

The fine weather returned later in the week for a home league game against table leaders Barry Romilly. Cowbridge won on two of the three rinks and by an overall score of 68-40.

Rink scores as follows: Rink two: Lynda Wilson, Pat Holdsworth, Sue Flower and Anne Jarvis 33-10; rink three: Glenys Davies, Helena Snelling, Judy Springett and Joan Bradley 14-19; rink four: Shirley Wilkinson, Diane Purnell, Pat Davey and May Jones 21-11. This was a fine performance by Cowbridge ladies.

For its mid-week Munro Cup game, the men's team played the Penarth Rectory Road team on their privately maintained grass green, which was in excellent condition.

Cowbridge players were no match for the opposition and were trounced by 106-35.

Only Byron Richards' quartet of Colin Wilson, Brian Elsey, Ron Woolford and Byron as skip provided serious competition. Rink score: Byron Richards 15, Penarth 18.

Splott Park was the venue for the last away league game of the season on a council-maintained green that had suffered because of the dry summer and a failing sprinkler system.

The opponents in St Albans, needed points to avoid relegation and Cowbridge were hoping for some away points to consolidate in mid-table.

The uneven playing surface was the same for both teams, but Cowbridge lost on all four rinks by 106-60.

Only Norman Wilkinson's team of Charles Sanders, Steve Dickens, Michael Bradley and Norman as skip had a close match (rink score: Norman wilkinson 20, St Albans 23).

Finally, some good news for a Cowbridge bowler. As 2009 club singles champion, Roger Barwick was automatically entered into the Mid Vale and South Vale Bowling Association's 'Champion of Champions' contest this year.

From 32 entries, Roger had reached the semi-final stage. He had played some of the matches at home and some away. His semi-final opponent, Mel Trigg, was playing on his home patch.

It was going to be an uphill battle for Roger and so it proved to be. With Mel leading 19-7, he only needed two points to win, but Roger staged a remarkable turnaround, drew level and won the match 21-20. What a result!

Roger will meet David Wright from the Barry Romilly club in the final later this month.

The Saints sparkle, but the Lions leave it too late to show some bite

Llantwit Major Lions	3
Sunday Saints FC	5

THE Saints made the short journey to Llantwit school field for a friendly game between them and league newcomers, the Llantwit Major Lions.

After a relatively successful last season, the Saints are looking to push on and have added three new faces to their squad with Gareth Richards and Dean Cleave making their first starts, and Phil Morgan coming off the bench.

The game also saw Nicky Cox play his first game as the newly-elected team captain for the season.

The Saints made a bright start and carved out the most chances in the opening spell but couldn't convert.

The breakthrough came when a corner was cleared back to taker Leigh Lewis, who crossed the ball back into the box and Nick Dyke headed the ball in from a few yards out.

The Lions pushed to get back in the game but found the Saints defence, particularly Nicky Cox, in incredible form.

Jordan Mortimore then picked out Leigh Lewis with a sublime crossfield pass to put him in on goal, and his touch allowed him to slot the ball past the oncoming keeper.

It was three minutes later when Rob West advanced from left back and his cross was misjudged by the keeper and nestled in the net.

The Saints came off at half time after dominating the half and playing some superb football and started the second half as they finished the first.

Mortimore's pin point perfect through ball put Dyke in and his finish was just as perfect, and the Saints were 4-0 up.

The Saints completed their scoring moments later when Reece Lewis put his brother clear and Leigh Lewis ignored the offside appeals to lift the ball over the keeper with a great lob.

The Lions rallied soon after and pulled one back after some neat football from Craig Bright, slamming the ball home after Richards had saved a shot.

James Austin showed a great piece of skill to almost make it six for Saints but his shot was just wide and Dean Cleave fired over after a good run.

Owen Newton reduced the deficit further, then Richards made an outstanding save to deny another Lions player.

The Lions pulled another goal back with Ryan Evans driving the ball home.

The Saints start their new first division league campaign this Sunday at home in St Athan Village against Saint Patrick Rovers of Maesteg, who will provide a tough opening encounter after finishing one place below Saints last season.

The Lions showed with their late rally that they will do well in the first division this season and hopefully both sides will be challenging for honours at the end of the season.

Honourable mentions to Gaz Richards in goal and the ever dependable Tom Roberts in midfield.

The man of the match was a tough call but it went to new captain Nicky Cox for an incredible display at centre half.

Success for Wales in world archery championships

LLANTWIT MAJOR archer Mathew Symmonds recently led the Welsh team to victory at their most successful ever World Field Archery Championships!

Set in and around the beautiful mountains graced by the Castle of Dahn in west Germany, the tournament consisted of five gruelling rounds of field archery. In near-perfect weather conditions, the scene was set for some quality shooting.

The Germany Archery Federation had built some of the most extreme courses ever seen, with shots of up to 80 yards set at elevations of more than 35 degrees in some cases.

In scenes that would do justice to any big budget movie, the archers shot some of their arrows from the imposing battlements of Dahn Castle to targets on the ground far below. Competing against top ranked archers from 38 countries, Mathew and his Welsh team (with an unprecedented five members coming from Llantwit Major), proved yet again the unwavering talent and dedication that places Welsh field archers constantly among the top world rankings.

The Llantwit Major team members fared as follows: Team captain Mathew Symmonds had a superb week, shooting some impressive scores and winning the gold medal in the professional recurve division.

At the previous tournament in 2008, Mathew shocked the archery world by winning the gold in the amateur gent's recurve division. This second gold makes Mathew Wales' most successful field archer of all time.

Wynn Jones's experience and skill took the silver medal in the veterans (over 55) bowhunter compound division.

Nigel Kent managed some respectable scores in his first World Championship but was overpowered by more experienced archers from South Africa and Germany.

Colin Ketley, (also making his world championships debut), held his own in the barebow recurve division, but Germany's strength in depth and experience told. However, Colin took a well-earned gold medal in the Class B tournament.

Claire Hamilton Jones shot very well during the week, building some impressive scores in the ladies unlimited group. Claire topped off a successful week with a personal best score in the fifth and final round for a successful first world championships.

Mathew commented: "While we expected difficult courses for this tournament, the terrain and elevations exceeded our expectations. The Welsh team tackled the courses well and the less experienced among the team showed very good composure under pressure. The team all rose to the challenge and shot well generating impressive results for Wales."

JR

It's the end of the road for Barry Bluebirds

AFTER the best part of nine years together, Barry Bluebirds manager Jeff Howells has had to sadly bring the team to an end due to unforeseen circumstances, including long term injuries and international commitments in another sport.

Jeff stated: "This was the hardest decision I've ever had to make in football. I'd like to say a massive thank you to all of the opposition players and coaches who I've enjoyed playing against and have been great sports,

"Thanks also to Lynn and Pam, club secretary and chairman, my coaches Rhys and Martin, all the parents over the years who have been absolutely incredible with their support, and the lads who I've coached throughout the years."

Barry impress against Premier opponents

BARRY TOWN proved themselves more than equal to big spending Premier League team Carmarthen in this mid-week away friendly.

Unfortunate to only draw, a Carmarthen defender admitted after the match that Barry showed them how to play, with long periods of domination by the Dragons.

Carmarthen had taken the lead, thanks to a deflection own goal off a Barry player in the 12th minute. The Town equalised after 25 minutes, when Jaymes Dixon was put through and rifled past the Carmarthen goalkeeper.

Barry hit the post a couple of times and a golden opportunity towards the end went close from striker Josh Bell. Manager Gavin Chesterfield played a 4-3-3 attacking formation with Maxwell, Sadler and Harterey in midfield, and Dixon, Blatchford and Jones up front.

The only concern was that the Dragons couldn't convert the possession into goals. However, the team have scored so many in pre-season friendlies, they are sure to hit the net many times against weaker opposition.

Barry Town are also announcing a special season ticket for Cardiff City season ticket holders. City fans can buy a Town season ticket for £50 instead of the £72 and can donate the saving of £22 to Cardiff City, to help City through their current financial difficulties!

Barry have arranged all their league home fixtures so as not to clash with Cardiff City home matches. Forms can be collected from the club from noon every day or can be sent to anyone phoning on 01446 735858.

The Town kick off the league season with two away matches on Wednesday, September 1 at Aberamman Athletic, and Garden Village on Saturday, September 4.

Rhoose hosts a Test Match

RHOOSE Bowling Club has returned to normality after entertaining a Test Series between Wales and Scotland over the weekend of August 7-8.

Members and spectators experienced the novelty of the matches being played in sets. The object was to prepare both teams for the type of match that they will face in the Commonwealth Games.

The standard of bowling was very high from both sides, but Scotland ran out the victors in most of the matches. Local bowlers were able to watch Paul Foster, who heads the WBT rankings for 2010/11 easily come to terms with Rhoose's new carpet.

On the Welsh team, local bowlers Jason Greenslade and Chris Blake played alongside Robert Weale.

Hosting this Test Series has to be the highlight of the club's 20-year-old history.

Family Notices

WADHAM
Jeffrey Lyndhurst

Sue and family wish to express their sincere gratitude to relatives, friends and neighbours for all the support, kindness and sympathy extended to them in their recent bereavement.

Very many thanks for the flowers, cards, letters and telephone calls during this sad time, and for the generous donations in memory of Jeff to Marie Curie Hospice.

Grateful thanks also to Canon Derek Belcher who officiated at the funeral and Andrew Thomas, Funeral Director, for carrying out all the funeral arrangements in such a sensitive and dignified manner.

Janet Nehls
22 August 1954

No birthday cards, no hugs from you,
Only the pictures and the precious memories,
remembering the loving wife and mother,
the things you did and said, we share them
every day, our love for you will never end.

We miss you. Love, Hansi, Joanne, Christian.

WISE
Jessica
(nee Harding)

Passed away peacefully on August 11th at Marie Curie, Holme Tower, Penarth.

Jessica, aged 80 years. Much loved mum of Lynda and the late Peter. A special mother-in-law to Allan and Helen. Loving nan of Adam, Ann-Marie, Jessica and Ian. Great nanny to Casey and Jack. A loved sister, sister-in-law and aunty, Jess will be greatly missed by all who loved and knew her.

Resting at Park Independent Funeral Directors, 7 Tynewydd Road, Barry until her service at Cadoxton Methodist Church, Barry on Monday, 23rd August at 11.00 am, followed by interment at Barry Cemetery.

Family flowers only please – donations, if desired, may be made at the service to Marie Curie Cancer Care, in memory of Jess.

All enquiries to Lyndsay Ellis of Park Funerals 01446 421212.

JONES
Alva

Suddenly on August 13 at Princess of Wales Hospital, Bridgend, Alva of Llantwit Major.

Beloved husband of Daphne, dearly loved father of Amanda and Rebecca, dear father-in-law of Philip and Stuart, much loved grandfather of Hannah, Rhys, Owen, Lewis and the late Sophie.

Resting at the Private Funeral Home of W James & Sons, Fonmon. Funeral Wednesday August 25, service 2pm at St Illtuds Church followed by cremation at Coychurch Crematorium, Bridgend at 3.15pm. Family flowers only may be sent to the Funeral Home, donations in lieu if desired to British Heart Foundation c/o J James, 11 Fonmon Road, Rhoose, CF62 3DZ.

POWELL
Geoffrey Philip

Court Close, Aberthin, died August 12, 2010.

Beloved husband of Jean, devoted dad to Philip and the late Robin. A wonderful, loving, caring man.

A supporter and great worker for many local organisations. Will be missed forever.

Service to be held on Tuesday, 24th August at Holy Cross Church, Cowbridge, at 12.45pm followed by cremation at Coychurch Crematorium at 1.45pm.

Family flowers only. Please donate to Cancer Research UK & MS Society.

CARR
Mildred (Millie)

Peacefully on 16th August in hospital, Millie, aged 93 years of Llantwit Major, formerly of Fulham.

Beloved wife of Neville, much loved mum to Michael and Janet, devoted Nan to Sarah and Tracey and Great Nan to Corey, Sam and Chloe.

Sadly missed by Jenny, John and Martin.

Funeral service in St Illtuds Church, Llantwit Major on Thursday, 26th August at 2.30pm, afterwards to Boverton cemetery.

Cut flowers may be sent to the funeral home.

All enquiries to W A Brown & Son, Pembroke House, Llantwit Major, 01446 792489.

Local canine society visits the Amelia Trust Farm for a companion dog show

RECENTLY, the popular Amelia Farm Trust played host to a meeting of the Barry, Penarth and South Glamorgan Canine Society.

Two dog shows were held, a companion dog show with a fun theme, and also a more 'serious' best of breed show. Pictured on this page, are some of the entries in each competition.

For the trust, which is a charity, the visitors were a welcome source of revenue.

Cadoxton ladies have a mixed week of results

CADOXTON LADIES welcomed Barry Central Ladies to Victoria Park to play in the Glamorgan league on August 5.

Rink one: Cadoxton – M Conibear, J Pycroft, D Evans, J Tuck 16; Barry Central – T Hawkins, P Widger, J Bullock, P Bowyer 13.

Five shots were lost by Barry Central on the first end and this was very difficult for them to catch up. Scoring throughout the game was very evenly shared.

Ends 13 to 16 saw Barry Central recover the five shots lost on the opening end, which brought the scores equal on end 16 at 12.

Cadoxton rallied and scored a fine four on the 17th end, and although Barry Central took the last end, it was only for one shot.

Rink two: Cadoxton – J Watkins, C Bentley, P Davies, P Cox 19; Barry Central – C Windle, P Ditchurn, M Farnden, J Morgan 8.

Cadoxton took 12 ends of this 18-end match, and it was a good game with many ends being taken by the last wood, a closer game than the scores would indicate.

Rink three: Cadoxton – A Jones, A Rees, P Currie, N Clissett 15; Barry Central – P Taylor, R Gwilliam, N Charles, J Thomas 17.

Central started the game with three shots, giving them a fine start, but Cadoxton caught up and by the 10th end the scores were equal at 9–9.

Each team won nine ends of this 18-end match and there was very little to separate them. It was tied at the 16th end and Barry Central took the last two ends to win this game.

Final score: Cadoxton 50, Barry Central 38.

On a very cloudy afternoon, Cadoxton Ladies were welcomed to Rhoose for their penultimate Glamorgan Thursday league match on August 12.

Rink one: Cadoxton – J Watkins, A Rees, P Currie, P Cox 16; Rhoose – S Wood, V Lovering, M Dutton, S Clark 14.

The Cadoxton ladies settled down well and made a wonderful start to the game by winning eight of the first 10 ends which saw the score at 15-3 to them.

This was a game of two halves, as the 10th end saw Rhoose recover and take the last six ends for a total of seven shots, but that was not enough to win the game.

Rink two: Cadoxton – A Jones, C Bentley, M O'Callaghan, N Clissett 10; Rhoose – H Stevens, B Nornham, A Clissold, G Watkins 17.

This game showed the advantage the home side has when playing on an artificial surface. Cadoxton ladies lacked the experience of the surface and were struggling throughout the game.

They did actually win eight ends, but mostly one shots where multiply scores really were the order of the day.

Rink three: Cadoxton – J Wood, L Spencer, D Evans, J Tuck 15; Rhoose – R Green, S Dance, J Hopkins 15 (the shots had to be reduced to 11.25 shots due to not playing a full team).

The game was a very even affair with each team alternately taking the end. The Cadoxton ladies took ends 17/18 for five shots, making it a draw at 15-all before the necessary quarter was deducted.

Final score: Cadoxton 41, Rhoose 42.25.

Our last match for the Glamorgan Thursday afternoon is today (August 19) at home, Victoria Park.

Sully have too much strength for Cadoxton

CADOXTON were the visitors at Sully for this Munro Cup game, and came up against a strong side, which proved too good on all rinks.

J Stacey, T Bishop, I Robertson, K Chedgzoy 12 – 25, H Griffiths, H Jones, E Pryer, B Griffiths; L Tanner, G Solomon, J Stewart, H Craven 13 – 19, J Slee, G Hodges, S Dibble, F Phillips; P Ellis, M Curtis, L Davies, A Carpenter 15 – 19, R Griffiths, A Davies, D Hotchkiss, J Best; B Knight, J Sugden, L Cundliffe, G Jones 13 – 22, A Smith, B Curtis, G John, D Curtis.

Final score: 58 – 71.

Cadoxton v Ynysangharad– ML3

The threat of relegation was still in the air for the home side when Ynysangharad visited Cadoxton hoping for a win to give them promotion.

It wasn't too long before this danger was placated when the rink skipped by Don Kuhnell surged into a big lead, with Phil Ellis playing superb opening bowls, followed by more good quality from Howard Hellyar and Les Cundliffe.

The other rinks played their part, Howard Craven having a tight struggle to keep control on his rink, but for the remainder of the game, an excellent run conceded only one single.

The rink skipped by Kelvin Chedgzoy also had to dig deep to keep in contention. Entering the final end the scores were level, a three on the last end brought the welcome success.

Graham Brown's rink found it very difficult to make an impression, but they were still fighting at the end and gained success on four of the last five ends to reduce the deficit.

This win ensured the relegation threat was over.

Rink scores: T Bishop, L Davies, J Davies, K Chedgzoy 18 – 15; P Ellis, H Hellyar, L Cundliffe, D Kuhnell 29 – 11; A Brown, D Evans, D Brook, G Brown 15 – 23; G Davies, W Vaughan, G Jones, H Craven 19 – 10.

Final score: 81-59.

Cadoxton 'A' v Roath Park – ML6

The visit to Roath Park brought more success to Cadoxton 'A' where they won on all rinks to ensure promotion in second place.

On the rink skipped by Graham Garland, a five helped to bring the scores level after seven ends, but from then on it was one-way traffic – the only success to the opposition was a two and four, while compiling a further 19 shots.

Alan Carpenter's four took a 9-1 lead after five ends, only to lose the next four ends. Nevertheless they were soon back into winning ways with success on nine of the remaining ends.

On the rink skipped by John Stewart, six ends were shared with three each at the start, before a five gave them a boost. Although the opposition drew closer, the final five ends brought success to Cadoxton.

Seven of the first 17 ends brought singles for Roy Harding's opposition, while his rink scored 16 shots. A threr and a two reduced the advantage but the whitewash was completed with two singles.

This completed an excellent weekend for both Cadoxton teams.

Rink scores: R Doble, I Dunbar, I Robertson, A Carpenter 23 – 11; S Clements, V Bryant, D Tuck, G Garland 27 – 14; R Cole, B Knight, L Little, J Stewart 25 – 14; G Powell, M Curtis, D Brook, R Harding 18 – 12.

Final score: 93-51.

BRYNHILL GOLF CLUB CAPTAIN'S SUMMER PARTY

AS is tradition at Brynhill Golf Club, the captain holds a summer party for invited guests and fellow members.

This year, the main entertainment was provided by Darren Tyson, with a late supporting role from Ifan Jones, and there was a Welsh theme of decoration, and food such as lavabread and cockles.

A wonderful time was had by all, and as can be seen from the photograph (left), the captain, John Kirkpatrick, enjoyed the company of his daughters Rhian and Leah on the evening.

PLANNING (LISTED BUILDINGS AND CONSERVATION AREAS) ACT 1990 (AS AMENDED)

NOTICE OF DE-DESIGNATION OF COWBRIDGE WITH LLANBLETHIAN CONSERVATION AREA AND DESIGNATION OF COWBRIDGE CONSERVATION AREA AND LLANBLETHIAN CONSERVATION AREA

Notice is hereby given, under section 70(1) of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 that The Vale of Glamorgan Council (hereinafter referred to as "the Local Planning Authority") has by a resolution passed on 7th July 2010, de-designated the area previously designated as the Cowbridge with Llanblethian Conservation Area and has designated two new conservation areas to be known as Cowbridge Conservation Area and Llanblethian Conservation Area as referred to in Schedules 2 and 3 hereto. These areas are considered by the Council to be of special architectural or historic interest, the character or appearance of which it is desirable to preserve and enhance.

The effect of the designations are as follows:

1. Conservation area consent will now be required for the demolition of all unlisted buildings (other than excepted buildings) in the designated area;
2. Planning applications for development which would in the opinion of the Local Planning Authority affect the character or appearance of the designated area must be given publicity and representations received as a result of the publicity must be taken into account in determining the application;
3. It becomes an offence subject to certain exceptions to cut down, top, lop, uproot, willfully damage or willfully destroy any tree in the area except with the consent of the Local Planning Authority within the designated area;
4. The Local Planning Authority are now under a duty to formulate and publish proposals for the presentation and enhancement of the designated area.
5. The restrictions above (1 – 4) no longer apply to areas that no longer form part of a designated area.

Plans showing the boundaries of the Conservation Areas and copies of the Character Appraisal and Management Plan defining the special character of the areas are available for inspection during office hours at the office of the Director of Environmental and Economic Development, Planning and Transportation, Docks Office, Subway Road, Barry. Alternatively, they can be viewed and downloaded from the Vale of Glamorgan Council's website at www.valeofglamorgan.gov.uk

Cardiff & the Vale of Glamorgan Schools year-7 track and field championships, Jenner Park, Barry

TROTMAN BAGS THREE TITLES

TOM TROTMAN underlined his potential with a three title haul at the Cardiff & the Vale of Glamorgan year-7 Boys' championships, held at Jenner Park.

The Cowbridge pupil first made his mark at the Aviva Welsh Sportshall Final at Cwmbran in March when he won the under-13 'four laps title', competing against year-8 pupils.

At these championships, held in sunny but blustery conditions, he set a new championship best in the high jump, adding two centimetres to the 1.51 metres mark set by Gareth Allen (Llantwit) in 1995, and then went on to claim the shot with a best put of 10.04 metres, and take the 100 metres with a 12.7 run to win heat four and a 12.8 clocking in the A final, in the process, providing 51 points in the team competition.

Richard Dangerfield, who represented the district at the Aviva Welsh Schools' National cross-country championships at Brecon in February, was another to gain good points. His sixth place in the 200, second place in the discus and victory in the javelin earned 43 of the Llantwit total of 91.5.

Although the problem has since been resolved by the Vale Council buying a new supply of hurdles, when this competition was held, there were only sufficient hurdles for five lanes of eight flights, so only five athletes could compete in heats and finals.

Dan Oddy claimed the 75 metres hurdles title for Cowbridge, but the Vale school could not retain the team title, having to settle for second behind Llanishen High.

Because of statutory tests in the Cardiff schools, the girls' championships, which were held on a different afternoon, had to be brought forward and, as a result, a number of schools were unable to compete – only 20 schools taking part.

In the individual events, the Vale girls found the competition very tough. Ana Mirza-Davies (Stanwell), another pupil who has represented Cardiff & the Vale over the country, took the 800 metres title with a 2:48.3 run in her time trial, while Jen Watt (St Richard Gwyn) won the long jump with a 4.24 metres leap, and Paige Williams (Cowbridge) had a best put of 7.65 metres to top the two shot pools.

Although they only finished second in their heat, the Cowbridge relay squad improved to take top spot in the A relay final, a performance which, on the provisional results, puts the Vale school in first place in the team competition. If that placing is confirmed, it will be the first Cowbridge victory in this section since 1997.

The association records its thanks to the PE department at Barry Comprehensive for hosting the boys' competition and to the PE departments at Bryn Hafren and St Richard Gwyn for organising the girls' fixture.

The individual winners are due to get their championship award at the annual track and field presentation evening, to be held at Cardiff High School, starting at 7pm. Originally, it was intended that the event would be held on Tuesday, September 7, but, given that the Vale schools do not start term until September 6, there is a possibility that the event will be put back to Tuesday, September 14.

NEWS FROM COTTRELL PARK LADIES

Across the bridge for a successful team away-day

First team, Jenny McGlyne, Andrea Caines, Janet Griffiths, Jan Crosby.

Second team – Margaret Thomas, Lorraine Pointon-Bell, Helen Evans, Deidre Murphy.

Margaret Thomas with Miss Button Trophy.

A COACH trip into the Avon countryside was enjoyed by 47 Cottrell Park ladies as they travelled to the Park Golf club near Bath.

The usual coffee and bacon roll was enjoyed before playing in a Stableford team of four competition, the best three scores to count and then an individual Stableford.

Drinks and a meal followed, before the presentation of prizes by the ladies captain Lorraine Pointon-Bell.

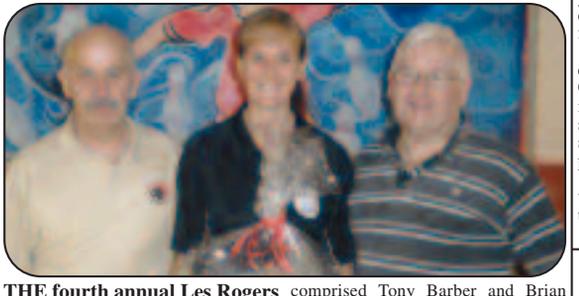
The individual prize was won by Margaret Thomas who received the Miss Button trophy with an excellent score of 39 points.

The first team prize was won by Jenny McGlyne, Andrea Caines, Janet Griffiths and Jan Cosby with 114 points. In second were Margaret Thomas, Lorraine Pointon Bell, Helen Evans and Deidre Murphy with 111.

Nearest the pin went to Mij Evans, longest drive (under 28 h'cap) Sandra Collin, and Helen Ruttley 28 h'cap and over.

Margaret Thomas thanked Lorraine for all her hard work in organising a lovely day, before every one climbed back in the coach tired but happy.

Tonyrefail charity event remembers bowler Les



THE fourth annual Les Rogers memorial 10 pin bowling doubles took place at the Rhondda Bowl, Tonyrefail on July 17-18.

The event was held in memory of Les Rogers, who had lived in Barry, and died while on international duty representing Wales in the Commonwealth Championships in Melbourne, Australia in 2006.

Having been a sergeant in the Royal Air Force, there was once again a strong Air Force presence at the event. The number of teams competing was 59, which is very encouraging given that it was a blazing hot day outside.

The winning team, Barber Johns, comprised Tony Barber and Brian Johns, both current team Wales senior bowlers and both members of the Thursday league, which Les used to run at Tonyrefail.

Both bowlers knew Les and Brian currently bowls with Les's widow, Kay, in a Thursday league team. They were surprised to win and were presented with a Welsh basket from Les's parents, Keith and Brenda, which was full of Welsh food and drink, trophies and a cash prize.

A total of £151.65 was raised from the event and donated to the British Heart Foundation.

FOUR BARRY GYMNASTS JOIN WELSH 2010 SQUAD

FOUR gymnasts from the Barry YMCA Gymnastics Club have gained places in the Welsh rhythmic gymnastics squad system.

Lorelei Westcott, Megan McIntyre, Daisy Connolly and Freya Evans were all selected to be a part of the 2010 squad.

Lorelei, as the oldest and most experienced gymnast (17) regained her spot on the national squad without having to retrial, as her 2009 competition results were so impressive – but there was bad news.

Her coach, Fay Benningwood, said: "Lorelei deserved to retain her spot in the national squad, she worked very hard throughout 2009. and came second to the senior British Champion and Commonwealth Gymnasts Francesca Jones in the British Championships free dance."

"Unfortunately, due to injury Lorelei has been unable to accept her space for this year. She is enjoying helping to coach some of her younger team mates during her time away from training."

Megan McIntyre (10) qualified for the British Championships and impressed at the testing, so she regained her space in the preparation plus squad.

This means Megan will train regularly with the national squad.

Daisy Connolly and Freya Evans (both aged eight) were exceptionally pleased to receive spaces in the preparation squad.

Fay said: "The two youngsters worked extremely hard in the run up to the testing and performed superbly on the day.

"Daisy and Freya had their first taste of intermediate level competition when they took part in the Welsh championships. This was a very big jump from novice standard, but both girls performed well individually, and were thrilled to win the silver medal position with their ball duet."

Fay added: "Congratulations also to Joanna Hourihan, who just missed out on a space in the national squad this year. Joanna has not let this result hold her back. She achieved a merit at her grade 6 level and qualified for the British grades finals, where she performed three routines very well and placed 18th overall – an excellent result for her first year at this level.

"Well done also to Chelsea George (10), Elen Williams (seven), Lowri McIntyre (seven), Seren Cummings (11) and Ffion Byrne (12) who also participated in the squad trial."

For more information about rhythmic gymnastics, contact Fay Benningwood on 01446 724002.

Island a mecca for volleyball

ON a recent visit to Barry Island Beach, Jane Hutt AM met Carl Harwood and members of the Barry Island Beach Volleyball Club.

She commented: "I know Barry Island has the best sand in the world for Volleyball and it was great to learn about the Olympic training opportunities offered here in Barry.

"The Volleyball Club is providing training facilities during the summer school holidays and a space to enjoy the fun of Volleyball."

Brynhill ladies enjoy an action-packed month

Ladies day out winning team (left to right) Jean Ludwigsen, Glynis Gould, lady captain, and Jenny Pateman.

DESPITE disappointing weather on July 13, there was a good turn-out for the vice-captain's golf competition.

The ladies met back in the clubhouse in the evening, for the presentations. The silver winner was Helene Cook and the bronze winner was Glynis Gould with 39.

Festival week (July 15-17) involved three unusual competitions, and was well supported.

The July 15 four club competition was won by Linda Gershenson.

The July 16 nine-hole cross-country was won by the lady captain, Linda Howlett.

The July 17 Texas Scramble was won by Robbie Lee, Linda Gershenson, Di Davies and Glynis Gould, with an impressive 64.8 nett.

Other results: Peggy Lane cup and G V W medal - winner Helena Coombes, 68 nett; runner-up, Glynis Gould, 72 nett.

ANNUAL DAY OUT

On Friday, July 20, a coach of ladies left Brynhill for the annual ladies day out, this year to Peterston Lakes.

Teams of three were drawn and the order of play arranged. After coffee and roll on the verandah, and some last minute practising on the putting green, the teams set off.

The player (who will remain nameless) who'd only brought three balls along, and was heard to ask, "there's not a lot of water on the course, is there?" found herself borrowing six extra balls for the challenging back nine.

After showers, the ladies dressed in their finery for cake and tea, followed by drinks on the patio. Later, after a two-course dinner, the presentations were made.

Winning team: Jenny Pateman, Glynis Gould and Jean Ludwigsen; runners-up: Robbie Lee, Di Bryant and Barbara Watkins.

Audrey Phillips thanked the lady captain for a most enjoyable and well-organised day.

Tim lands a treble victory

ON AND OFF THE TURF
with Brian Lee

ABERTHIN'S Tim Vaughan was in fine form over the weekend. At Market Rasen on Saturday evening, he landed a double with Mission Control in the novice chase and Isle Of Inishmore in the novices handicap hurdle.

At Southwell, less than 24 hours later, where he is the leading trainer, he scored with Khorun, who came home 12 lengths clear of Dereks in a novice hurdle race.

Mission Control beat stablemate Walamo (Tom David) by a length after Frankie Anson, the favourite, fell at the last when five lengths clear. All three of Tim's winners were ridden by Richard Johnson.

Two other local trainers to saddle winners at Southwell were Llancarfan's Evan Williams and Kenfig Hill's John Flint.

Flint won the selling hurdle with top-weighted Zafar, who was partnered by Ogmore's Christian Williams, and Evan Williams took the claiming hurdle with Cannon Fire, partnered by stable jockey Paul Moloney.

Welsh champion point-to-point rider and leading ladies amateur jumps champion Isabel Tompsett won the UK Hygiene Ladies Derby Handicap (For Lady Amateur Riders) at Newbury last Saturday on Eastern Paramour.

Barry seconds earn a hard fought victory

Barry 2nd XV	24
Lampeter 2nd XV	22

BARRY 2ND XV began their season's warm-up with a tough game against Lampeter at home in this eagerly anticipated tie.

With Barry finishing last season strongly, the home side were keen to continue with that momentum and began brightly.

Attempting to keep the ball alive as much as possible, the backline sizzled, under the direction of stand-off Hywel Graham.

It was the number 10's break deep into opposition territory that allowed Barry to get on the scoreboard first, with Andrew Houldey picking up the pieces to drive over. The reliable boot of Adam Lee added the extras.

Lampeter, however, were not just here to make up the numbers.

They boasted a powerful pack which they utilised expertly, and by keeping the ball in the tight they gained territory effectively. Some good Barry defending was not enough as they drove through to score.

The conversion was missed.

Realising the opposition's strength, the home side sent on veteran Gavyn Elsworth to strengthen the tight five, and tried to release ball quicker to the backs.

Ben Taylor raced clear to score in the corner at one point, only for the touch judge to disallow it for going out of play.

Grantley Harris, who was outstanding throughout with his ball-carrying and elusive pace, made up for it minutes later as he danced through to score under the posts, and Lee's conversion was a formality.

With the score 14-5 at half-time, Ben Hitchcock was brought on in place of Lloyd Dutton for his final game for Barry before his retirement.

It was, however, the away side who touched down first in the second period, as loanee Alyn Evans raced past the despairing home defence to score in the corner.

Once again the extras were not added.

Sharp incursions in midfield by Harris, Luke Bounds and substitute Ashley Adams were causing havoc in the away defence, and when Adams sent Hitchcock through he seemed destined to score in his final game, only to be held up on the line.

Soon after Bounds did get himself on the scoresheet with another probing run, but the conversion was missed.

The away side attempted to rally but were lacking in fresh legs for the latter part of the game, and had to 'borrow' further players from Barry.

Ashley Brown took advantage and stormed through several tackles to ground another unconverted try.

With the game seemingly lost for Lampeter, they redoubled their efforts and found themselves deep in Barry territory, and were rewarded with two late tries.

The score was 24-22 when another loanee, Danny Ryan, stepped up for the conversion, but unfortunately this was missed, giving Barry their first victory of the season in a finely contested game.

Team: Lee; D Williams, Harris, Bounds, Taylor; Dimond (c), Graham; Houldey, Turnbull, Brown; Dutton, Case; Barclay, Jones, Rolfe; Subs (for Barry): Adams, Chow, J. Williams, Elsworth, O'Sullivan, Manley, Hitchcock, Tobin, Harrison, C. Thomas, Haigh; Subs (for Lampeter): Ryan, Jason Thomas, Jeff Thomas, Alyn Evans, Alex Evans, Bergeron, Hollister.

Man-of-the-match: Harris.

Barry boxer unveils the next stamp in Olympic series

A BARRY boxer has helped launch the second of Royal Mail's London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games stamps.

Andrew Selby, who won a bronze medal at the European Amateur Boxing Championships in Moscow, was picked out to represent his sport at the launch event.

The stamps mark a key milestone in the countdown – two years to the opening ceremony to the Olympic Games.

"The latest stamp issue, subtitled 'On Track for 2012' features a fresh set of 10 dynamic images championing Olympic and Paralympic sports.

In total Royal Mail will issue 30 first class stamps in the run-up to the games. The stamps feature established sports such as hockey, boxing and football, and more recent additions including Tae Kwon Do, and BMX cycling.

ATHLETIC'S PG2 SIDE STEAL THE SPOTLIGHT

BARRY ATHLETIC'S PG2 side stole the spotlight last Saturday with an impressive 81 shots to 58 win against Windsor, Penarth at Barry Island.

The Athletic triumphed on three rinks to collect 12 vital points and continue their push for promotion.

Highlight of the win, giving the Island squad the double over the visitors, was the exciting form of skip Billy Wright and his bowlers.

With lead Eric Booker maintaining his accuracy in an outstanding season, Alan Thomas and Albert Mintern adding excellent support.

Billy's rink raced to a 22-4 score after 11 ends and eventually came home with a 33-16 success.

Skip Ivor Stevenson produced a number of saving shots in a confident display on his rink to help his lineup to a comfortable 18-9 win, while Colin Spillane's squad battled well for a 16-14 win.

The Athletics PG2 team remain in the top two in their division with their closing rearranged fixtures - against Ystradfechan, Barry Plastics and title challengers Aberdare Harlequins – all at home in the next four weeks.

The first team, also in the chase for promotion in the PG1 section, suffered a surprise defeat at Ely Valley last Saturday, beaten 77 shots to 95.

Geoff Whittaker's bowlers won on two rinks to pick up four points but there were heavy defeats for skips Chris Blake (8-36) and Glyn Thomas (16-35).

Robert Horgan (31-13) and Dean Rees (22-11) were the winning rinks for Athletic.

Robert's rink, featuring a trio of young players in Luke Stanley, Dan Jones and Kristian Harris, produced great bowling, collecting a six, five and two fours on their scorecard!

Tractor run for charity

THERE will be a vintage tractor run on Sunday, October 17 in aid of Macmillan Cancer support on Ogmore Castle field from 11.15am.

Entries close on October 11. Entrance fee (£10 per tractor) and sponsorship money – please make cheques payable to 'Macmillan Cancer support'; and send to Basil George, Ivy Cottage, Ogmore village, Vale of Glamorgan CF32 0QP.

The route is eight miles and will travel from the castle, finishing at the Pelican Inn, Ogmore Village.

Romilly bowlers are in 'sparkling' form

BARRY Romilly Bowling Club entertained Llantrisant Bowling Club at Romilly Park on Saturday for their 1st division match.

Despite a tricky green and a few rain showers the Romilly boys were in sparkling form and won the match convincingly.

Jeff Wright's rink of G Trepleton, D Bannister and G Cogbill were the hotshots of the match and won this rink 35-12.

They overwhelmed their opponents with a couple of 5s and plenty of 3s to reduce the Llantrisant players to just six ends.

Dave Wright's rink of R Cowling, K Clements and G Eastment had a powerful game and also reduced their opponents to just six ends. They led from start to finish and won this rink 28-9.

Alan Bryan's rink of J Jones, A. Freeman and M Gershenson led from start to finish and were never under pressure from their opponents with Romilly boys going on to win this rink 19-13.

Bryan Foscolo's rink of M Newman, P Gershenson and G Rees drew the short straw against a strong Llantrisant rink. Romilly led 8-5 after six ends but struggled to keep up with their opponents and lost the rink 18-22.

Charity day a success

A VERY successful fundraising golf day and auction was hosted by club captain Ade Hawkins and lady captain Sally Hopkins.

Thirteen teams of four players took part with much support coming from visiting teams, and while the weather was kind to the early starters, conditions became challenging as the day progressed.

An excellent display of golf was seen with the triumphant team made up of RAF St Athan GC members, Russ Brooke, BJ Hawkins, Andrew Keys and junior Kyle Harman, returning a score of 117 stableford points.

Second place went to Liz Thomas, Ann Power, Jayne Williams and Celia Grey-Scott. (RAF St Athan) – 112 points, while third place went to Dan Peters' team from N-Power – 110 points.

Following the competition, a raffle and auction was held in the clubhouse boosting the total raised to a staggering £1,780.

This is to be shared equally between Velindre Hospital (captain's chosen charity) and Hope in our Heart (lady captain's charity, raising money for specialist heart equipment in memory of Hope Thomas).

Ade and Sally would like to thank the golf club, its members and friends who made donations, as well as the local business community for their kind generosity.

Barry Athletic cricket round-up

THE STAGS MAINTAIN CHAMPIONSHIP CHASE WITH CRUSHING WIN

NATHAN BAKER led his Barry Athletic First XI team against bottom-of-the-table Llantwit Fardre in a 'David vs Goliath' encounter at the Barry Oval.

The match began in complete domination for the Stags, with wickets falling very quickly. Some fine bowling from Peter Hellyar and Jake Griffett brought three quick wickets, including two outstanding 'direct hit' run-outs from Nathan Baker and Steve Jones.

With the visitors at an all-time low, it was a chance for Steve Jones to catch up with Hellyar in terms of wickets taken. With the ball seaming inwards and outwards, Jones caused havoc with the ball.

Some fine fielding, with the exception of Ashley Baker's dropped catches, allowed Jones to take the rest of the Llantwit Fardre wickets and he finished with a season's best of 7-29 from 7.2 overs.

Only Mark Walsh managed to reach double figures (14) as the visitors were bowled out for a humiliating 75 from 25.2 overs.

After the mid-session interval, it was a case of when the target would be reached by the Stags, and with the quality of Lee Morgan and Nathan Baker, it wasn't too long.

Some fine shots and average bowling from the visitors, meant that only 13.2 overs were bowled before the Stags reached their target of 76.

The Stags captured another 20 points and are within striking distance of top-of-the-table, Welsh Asians, as they look to be crowned Division Three champions 2010.

Third XI beat West End in 'friendly' encounter

WITH Andy Ellis returning, the captaincy was handed over to Ashley Baker as he looked to overcome neighbours, Barry West End, in a friendly encounter.

With conditions looking humid and the slight cover of grass, West End captain, Nye Lane, won the toss and chose to field first.

The Stag innings began shakily as four quick wickets (Andy Ellis – 2, Elliott Clissold – 12, Kurt Hatton – 0 and Callum Twomey – 13) fell within the first 15 overs, and with the West End looking strong in the bowling department, things could have gone from bad to worse.

At 62-4, when the Stags were in trouble and were in desperate need of a decent partnership, which came from Steve Jones and Jake Griffett.

A brilliant batting display from the pair brought the Stags into a comfortable position.

A 146-run partnership, from just 21 overs, wowed players and fans alike, with Griffett hitting three massive sixes in the process.

After Jones departed for a BACC career's best of 89, Baker was on hand to finish off the innings with Griffett.

With 16 runs coming from the final two overs, the Stags finished on a dominant 224-5 from the 40 overs. Griffett finished on a career best 85 not out.

After the tea session, the West End began strongly with Ian Gadd and Rhys Howell getting off to a good start and putting the young Stags under early pressure.

Opening bowlers, Callum Twomey and Dafydd Frost, were put to the test with boundaries being hit consistently.

West End looked as though they could reach their target with ease had it not been for Frost's 'snowball' dismissing Gadd, for a quickfire 40.

An inspired bowling change from Baker brought the second wicket with Ellis dismissing Howell, after a fine catch from Griffett with the gloves. Frost claimed his second wicket after dismissing crowd favourite, Pat Cowley.

Things were becoming more positive for the Stags as the West End were beginning to leak wickets, but an 80-run partnership between Jason Thomas and Greg Tressider brought a lot of respectability for the West End and with Tressider passing 50, the West End still had a chance of claiming an unlikely win.

However, after Elliott Clissold dismissed Tressider for 56, the West End's tail was exposed and with time running out, it was too late to mount a winning partnership.

Some fine death bowling from Kurt Hatton, who claimed his first Stag wicket after Jason Thomas lobbed the ball to Clissold, restricted the West End to just 168-5 from their 40 overs.

A fine win for the Stags, who now are looking to finish off the season with a tough home match against Ponthir on the horizon. The win will help the Stags' confidence as they look to finish strongly.

Under-11s finish season unbeaten

BARRY Athletic under-11s finished unbeaten with a good win against Lisvane.

With Sam Hopkins hitting 35 not out and taking the man of the match, this secured a finals day game against local rivals Sully Centurions.

It has been a really great season for the Barry boys, finishing in top spot in what has been the first season of hard ball cricket for all the youngsters.

Next year, Barry will move into the 'A' league structure to continue to build on this season's development.

Good weekend sees Tom stretch his lead

HAVING proven that he was back on the pace in the blue riband Kartmasters meeting the weekend before, highly-rated young Bonvilston karting star Tom Harvey drove the point home in the fifth round of the Super 1 Series at Glan Y Gors, as he closed in on the British Championship crown.

Quick in the wet qualifying session, Tom placed a competitive seventh among the 32-strong MSA Cadet class field to begin both of his heat races from P5.

"I was really pleased with that, because this year I haven't had that many good qualifying sessions," the 12-year-old candidly confessed. "I'm a much better racer than qualifier, because I can always come through the pack well.

"Both heats were incredibly close and exciting. In the first one, five of us went over the finish line absolutely together, with three on the track and two on the grass!

"Then in the second heat I was leading, but coming round a corner I got nudged into a full 360° spin."

The first final was decided on the final corner. Tom said: "Max Vaughan made a really late lunge up my inside. I held him out wide on the exit and Philip Rawson got the cut-back on both of us to win, but second place suited me fine.

"In the second final, I dropped to 13th after a terrible start, but within six laps I had fought my way up to third. I made my way into the lead and worked really hard to build a gap in the twisty infield section.

"The last lap turned into a bun fight, but overall I was still happy with the result."

Fifth place enabled Tom to stretch out his advantage in the title chase from 36 points to 45.

Tennis coaching

BARRY Tennis Club is opening the doors to junior members and non-members to get expert training from qualified coaches, Tuesday to Friday, (August 24–27).

Sessions include mini tennis for six-10 year olds, and full court tennis, for those over 11.

For further details, contact Rob The Coach on 07909 987359 or email: robthecoach@pltc.org.uk

Barry Tennis Club is beating the big boys

BARRY Tennis Club is breaking new records by becoming the new south Wales men's doubles champions, beating off competition against teams from Cardiff, Swansea and Newport.

The triumph is a first in the club's 80 year history, including a notable double victory over Cardiff.

The Barry team featured a 12-man squad, led by captain Chris Evans.

The win follows earlier successes for the club with its second team winning the South Wales Division Two league and gaining promotion, along with winning the Men's Winter League, and the Men's Veterans over-45's Doubles Winter League.

Commenting on the achievements Chris Evans said: "We are doing Barry proud, beating much bigger clubs, reflecting the quality and commitment of our players and club members."

The club is run by volunteers and is funded by membership fees, which are kept as low as possible, with any profits re-invested back into the club's activities and its facilities.

Barry Tennis Club is affiliated to Tennis Wales, the national governing body for tennis in Wales, which is part of The Lawn Tennis Association (LTA).
